Federal Agents To Probe Wet Senators

BOASTS MADE IN WISCONSIN TO BE SIFTED

Government Will Prosecute Gettelman and Baker If Evidence Warrants CLASS AS 'HARD CASES'

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Federal prohibition authorities will investigate the two Wisconsin senators who publicly announced they were breaking the dry law and will prosecute them if they are, prohibition Commissioner Haynes said today.

Haynes said federal dry authorities in Chicago and Madison would immediately inquire into the senators' home-brewing activities and if basis for prosecutions is found they will take the legislators into court.

The senators are Bernard Gettelman, Milwaukee, and James A. Baker, Antigo. They announced during a committee hearing on a proposed memorial to Congress asking legislation of 2.75 per cent beer that they and their wives made home brewed wine with a "kick in it."

The federal dry chief, incidentally, revealed that Wisconsin had "hard cases" as New York, Pennsylvania and California, and federal enforcement work in the state was directly administered from Washington by Chief of Prohibition Agents Yellowfoot, through his Chicago office.

SENATOR READY FOR DRY AGENTS

MADISON, Wis., March 27.—Senator Ben Gettelman, Milwaukee, left the Wisconsin senate chamber today to confer with his attorney, Ralph W. Jackman, when informed that federal authorities would investigate admitted violations of the Volstead act, revealed in committee hearing earlier in the week.

"Let them go as far as they like," Gettelman said. "We're ready for them."

He will have a sample of his wine analyzed today, when he will turn it over to federal authorities for evidence as soon as requested.

Gettelman immediately got in touch with his wife, in Milwaukee, and warned her not to let federal authorities seize 15 gallons of fruit juice wine stored in the cellar.

CREW OF GIANT PLANE MISSING

WASHINGTON, March 27.—A. G. Rogers and three enlisted men of the army air service, in a giant Martin bomber plane, were reported missing when seven other planes of their squadron returned to safety after running into a storm over York, Pa., today.

COMMANDER GRAVELLY ILL

DELHI, India, March 27.—General Lord Rawlinson, commander-in-chief of the Indian army, is in a grave condition, following an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Vanderbilt Routs Robber In N. Y. Mansion

NEW YORK, March 27.—Revolver in hand, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt entered a dark room on the second floor of her Fifth avenue mansion early today and put to flight a burglar whose image she saw in a wall mirror. This is the third time in two weeks that the Vanderbilt home has been entered by thieves. On each occasion the burglar was frightened away.

PROPOSERS OF GAS TAX RAISE STILL HOPEFUL

SACRAMENTO, March 27.—Fires of the gasoline tax increase proposers still smoldering today, indicating they have not entirely given up hope of seeing their pet measure go through.

Despite claims of the opposition, voiced yesterday, that the measure is as good as dead, Senator Arthur H. Breed, author of the proposal, believes his bill will find a way to the governor, however hard the battle may be.

Rumors that the bill might be amended on the floor of the senate to take care of the allocation of funds to be obtained under it were today following Breed's decision not to amend the measure himself.

Other Tax Proposals.

On the other hand, the governor's stand, explained in his vigorous statement will not render such a scheme advisable some members think.

Richardson intimated the bill if amended to give the legislature power of allocating the revenues would be vetoed by him.

Should the gasoline tax increase fail, there are, however, a number of other proposals for financing the highways program from which the legislators may choose.

Jews Favor Measure.

A delegation of Jewish representatives addressed the committee for the measure last night. Opposition was voiced on behalf of representatives of some of the Orthodox Jews, who contended the bill was aimed at their religion.

The bill would require persons seeking wine for sacramental purposes to first obtain a permit from the district attorney of the county in which the church or synagogue is located.

Violations of the act would be made a felony.

DRY RAIDERS ARE GRANTED SECOND TRIAL

Mrs. Beverly Ward and Associates Are to Be Given Another Hearing
JURORS NOT QUALIFIED

Woman Takes Stand and Points to Men Seen at Preliminary Investigation
DISCOVERY that two jurors at the trial of Mrs. Beverly Ward and her three fellow operatives of the Anti-Saloon League, who were convicted of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, had attended preliminary hearing of the case and also the previous trial of Ivory Shields, the minor in the case, today resulted in the granting of a new trial.

Mrs. Ward and her co-workers will face their second trial April 8 and 9. It was decided today by Superior Judge F. C. Drumm, in granting the defense motion.

The bombshell that upset proceedings expected to result in sentence or probation for the four defendants was tossed by pretty Mrs. Jessie Wall, one of the defendants, who took the witness stand and pointed out two jurors, J. A. Powell and J. F. Walker, whom she said, she saw at the preliminary hearing and at the Shields trial.

Attorney William T. Kendrick Jr., who was associated with defense counsel today, then demanded the jurors on the ground that the jurors had received evidence "out of court."

Money from the jurors themselves, and over the vigorous opposition of Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wetlin, the court granted a new trial.

Powellson admitted that he had attended both the preliminary hearing and the Shields trial. Walker was not at the preliminary hearing, he said, but had heard a little of the testimony at the Shields trial. Both had been summoned as jurors at the Shields trial, but neither had served. Both denied that they had formed any opinion or prejudice in the case.

Walker said his sympathy had been for the defendants. He had been removed after the trial that both Walker and Powellson stood out for acquittal.

"There must be no doubt that the defendants have had a fair and impartial trial," said Judge Drumm. "Therefore I am going to grant a new trial. Not that I feel that the defendants did not receive a fair trial before their conviction, but because there must be no question in the matter."

Trouble In Finding Jurors

Wetlin, in a statement expressing the position of the district attorney's office, declared that, if jurors could be barred from serving in a case, simply because they are in a hurry to get home, it would be impossible to try any important case. It would be difficult at another trial of the defendants, he said, to find jurors who had heard nothing of the case.

The deputy prosecutor filed a formal notice of appeal from the judgment granting a new trial. "To keep the records clear," he said. "Today's proceedings were originally intended as a hearing on an application by the defendants for probation, and for pronouncing judgment. Attorney Kendrick, however, injected the new issue of a new trial into the case. Such a motion had been filed by Attorney Gray, just after the jury verdict was announced, and was at that time denied."

New Storm In Cyclone Area Kills Survivor

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., March 27.—One man was killed and thousands of dollars damage done when an electrical storm struck the cyclone-devastated region today. The man killed, a negro, was struck by lightning while in bed in one of the refugee tents thrown up since the death-dealing cyclone last week.

ABLE COUNSEL GIVE SERVICES TO MATRICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—State and defense deadlocked today in a move to end the court torture of Dorothy Ellingson, juvenile matricide, and spare her the agony of a murder trial.

Newspapermen, after Dorothy had fainted the seventh time since the hearing opened, sought out defense attorneys and asked that some humane move be taken to end the proceedings.

The girl's counsel announced they had had a standing offer for two weeks to bring Dorothy into court and plead guilty to manslaughter, if the state would withdraw the murder complaint. Deputy District Attorney Skilling, prosecuting chief, said that, aside from his personal feeling toward the case, the state would not agree to a manslaughter plea.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—Six-year-old Dorothy Ellingson, confessed mother slayer, has the backing of a "million-dollar defense" without cost.

As the trial entered its fifth day with the jury still incomplete, the value of the girl's experienced counsel appeared in the "breaks" which have thus far been in her favor.

Alexander Mooslin, Sylvester McAtee, former judge, and Walter T. McGovern, three of the ablest criminal lawyers in the city, are waging Dorothy's fight without hope of remuneration.

Besides, a corps of prominent attorneys has examined her and will testify without charge.

"It was the cry of the pack on Dorothy's trail which caused us to take the case," McAtee said today.

Get Small Retainer.

"Only a few hundred dollars, our retainer fee, is all we will receive out of it. The amount would not keep us in cigars for many weeks. Dorothy's father and brother have no money and we expect none."

"To us, however, this is not a mere case of a girl on trial," McAtee continued. "It is a case of an era, a people, on trial."

RECOMMENDS FOR HARBOR DUE LATER

Say Beach Report Does Not Advise As to Specific Port Improvement
JETTY AT EAST SIDE

Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce Meet at St. Ann's Inn
DECLARATIONS by T. B. Taibert, chairman of the Orange County Harbor commission, that Gen. Lansing H. Beach, consulting engineer for the harbor commission, had not yet made specific harbor improvement recommendations to the commission; presentation of a resolution urging the board of supervisors to purchase beach lands for a county park, and land for another county park to be located as near as possible in the center of population; severe criticism of Commerce by V. D. Johnson, secretary of the County Chamber of Commerce at Orange, and election of officers were the outstanding features of the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, held last night at St. Ann's Inn, this city.

Following the declaration by Taibert that Beach had no more definite recommendations as to harbor improvement, Lake explained that the commission itself had not definitely decided what its recommendations would be. He said, however, that the commission had virtually agreed that a jetty should be constructed at the east side of the harbor entrance, asserting that the jetty could be built and the channel dredged for less than the channel could be dredged without the jetty.

Expert Definite Advice Soon

The commission chairman advised that the recommendations of the consulting engineer would be requested later, and that his definite advice as to what should be done probably would be available in a short time. He said that the commission had definitely decided on some things and had so advised an engineer, in order that he might be preparing his recommendations on those points.

Pointing out that the experience at San Pedro harbor had shown conclusively that, since 1914, there has been a big increase in the draft of vessels plying along the south coast, Lake said that the 14-foot channel adopted in the original plans for the local harbor was not adequate for ocean traffic of today.

"I should have to see the present commission start harbor operations," Lake said, in emphasizing the fact that the old commission did not have sufficient funds to carry out original plans. "The present commission is firmly of the mind that, if it starts further harbor improvement, it must have money sufficient to meet the expense of the improvement with a little surplus to take care of contingencies."

Must Decide On Program

"We must decide what we want to equip the harbor for commercial purposes and then we must have money enough to execute the plans," he continued. "When we have developed the port on a commercial basis, we may reasonably expect assistance from the national government."

Major Finch, U. S. engineer in charge of the Los Angeles district, has told the commission that we cannot expect government assistance by establishing merely of a large service here.

The harbor can be made one of the county's greatest assets. No money plays no part in this case," McAtee concluded. "Dorothy, herself, is but a medium through which a civilization is being tried—a civilization that provided the causes and produced the effects of this thing."

"Dorothy Ellingson is not defending herself against the people of California in the strictest sense of the word."

"This is a case of 'the people versus the people.'"

Indians Urge Reservation Head Be Ousted

YUMA, Ariz., March 27.—Removal of Supt. L. L. Odle, of the Yuma Indian reservation, was demanded of Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work by a special delegation of tribesmen today.

The Indians presented the secretary with a written list of grievances, after securing an interview with him in his private car in the Southern Pacific railroad yards here. The document, charged Odle with gross mismanagement of affairs of the reservation, with "overbearing and other acts unendurable."

Secretary Work said he would take the charges under advisement. He left today for a tour of the Imperial district.

EXHUME BODIES OF TWO TO GET POISON DATA

CHICAGO, March 27.—The body of Dr. Oscar Olson was exhumed today to determine whether death was caused by poison. Chemists from the office of Coroner Oscar Wolf started an examination of the body in the cemetery offices.

At the same time, other officials from Wolf's office started digging up the body of Mrs. Emma McClintock, who died 16 years ago.

The exhumations were ordered for the purpose of securing further evidence against William D. Shepherd, who is charged with killing his millionaire ward, Billy McClintock.

Exhumation of these two bodies is in line with the theory advanced by Dr. Olson's brother, Chief Justice Harry Olson, of the municipal court, and prime instigator of the McClintock probe. Judge Olson believes the coroner's physicians and chemists will find both Mrs. McClintock and Dr. Olson died of unnatural causes.

Mrs. McClintock died soon after Shepherd and his wife came to live with her. Being a widow, she left her 6-year-old son in the custody of the Shepherds.

Dr. Olson, who had known Mrs. McClintock since their school days, was deeply attached to the young "millionaire orphan," however, and, according to Judge Olson's theory, Shepherd resented his interest in Billy's life.

PAY $100,000 AS FROST INSURANCE

Insurance companies have distributed among citrus growers of the county approximately $100,000 covering losses sustained in the freeze, it was announced here today by C. E. Dessery, representing the Aetna Affiliated companies.

According to Dessery, he has passed checks to growers that aggregate $60,000. More payments were being made today.

The agent also says the damage by frost was not as severe as was thought immediately after the cold snap.

TRUE BILL IS RETURNED ON U. S. SENATOR

Grand Jury of District of Columbia Charges 24 Overt Acts Against Trio
IN MONTANA OIL DEAL

Claim Illegal Cabal to Acquire Part of Public Domain of United States
WASHINGTON, MARCH 27.—A true bill indicting Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana, Democrat, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with Montana oil deals, was returned today by the District of Columbia grand jury. Edwin Booth and Gordon Campbell, of Montana, were indicted with Wheeler on the same charges.

The indictment charges Wheeler and the two other men with "conspiracy to obtain illegally the use of land in Montana which was part of the public domain of the United States."

James McGowan, who was also named in the government's case, was not indicted. He appeared before the grand jury and testified recently.

Charge Bribe Offered

Wheeler, Campbell and Booth also are charged jointly with offering a bribe to Francis M. Goodwin, while Goodwin was assistant secretary of the interior, to facilitate issuance of prospecting permits.

Twenty-four separate overt acts are charged against each of the three defendants.

Booth also was charged with having used his influence to obtain permits while he was solicitor for the interior department and later while he has become an assistant to the U. S. attorney general.

This is the second indictment of Wheeler in connection with his alleged activities as a lawyer before the interior department for Campbell, his client, for whom it was charged he was using his influence.

First Indictment in Montana

The first indictment was returned last fall in Great Falls, Mont., shortly after Wheeler had become a candidate for vice president of the independent ticket with Senator La Follette. The first indictment has never been brought to trial.

Former Attorney General Stone started this second investigation before the local grand jury, claiming he had new evidence in the case.

The indictment charged that Wheeler tried to obtain control of 20,000 acres of land in Toole county, Mont., which were legally subject to permits for prospecting for oil and gas. It was charged that Wheeler conspired to do this in the following manner:

Campbell obtained for prospectors legal permits to prospect, but with the understanding that the oil and gas from the land would be used for the benefit of Campbell.

Wants List of Permits
The indictment reproduces a letter alleged to be signed by Wheeler and addressed to Campbell, dated March 8, in which Campbell was asked for a "list of these permits" (presumably the prospectors' permits) so that the writer "might intelligently discuss them with officials of the interior department."

The jury has been in session since early in February, ex-Attorney General Stone having announced in January that he had important new evidence to lay before it in the Wheeler case. The nature of this new evidence was not made public until the indictment was returned today.

Wheeler Expresses Surprise.
Senator Wheeler late today issued a statement expressing surprise that a local federal grand jury indicted him on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the government of land in Montana.

"I was convinced that the grand jury was not going to return an indictment for the reason, that after hearing all the evidence, the grand jury was permitted to take a recess for four weeks, which is, to say the least, an almost unheard of procedure."

"I am sure that, when the case comes to trial, the general public will be convinced of my complete innocence."

Bond for Wheeler will be fixed at $1000. He is expected to appear to arrange this tomorrow.

LONDON, March 27.—Margaret Lloyd-George, wife of the former premier, reported she lost a $50,000 pearl necklace during the voyage from Gibraltar on her arrival at Plymouth today.

FORBACH, France, March 27.—Seventy men are believed to have lost their lives and 25 others were injured today when a coal hoist cage plunged 1000 feet down a shaft at the Merbach mine. Fifty bodies already have been recovered.

DUNCAN AND BRIDE ARE AT FULLERTON

Harold Duncan, 22, brother of the celebrated Duncan sisters, and his bride, who were reported missing "somewhere between Yuma and Los Angeles" since March 12, were found today in the Fullerton camp, where they had stopped for a short rest following their trip across the continent.

The Duncans were unaware that a nationwide search had been instituted for them, following the report of a brother in Yuma that he had not heard from them for some time.

Duncan and his wife were members of the "Topsy Eva" company, which toured the country recently. The show closed at Rochester, New York, a month ago and the Duncans, who were married in July, immediately started a honeymoon by automobile. They visited in Yuma a few days and then started for California.

According to Duncan, he plans to enter motion pictures in Hollywood within a short time.

Canada's Balance Doubles In 1924

OTTAWA, Ont., March 27.—Canada's favorable trade balance for 1924 more than doubled that of the year previous, according to an official statement. In 1923 this was $125,498,608 as against $262,

415,043 for the year just ended. "As usual, the United Kingdom and the United States were the leading nations with whom Canada transacted business," says the report. "The aggregate value of trade across the international boundary was $937,592,701, while that with the British Isles was $536,052,306. Canada's trade with England carried a favorable balance amounting to $238,380,296, but that with the United States was unfavorable to the extent of $111,629,473. These two countries account for approximately 73 per cent of the total business of the dominion.

one can study the project as I have and not become enthused over the possibilities, if it is developed as a commercial harbor."

Declaring that chambers of commerce of Orange county and other organizations of the county stop swallowing the "dope" thrown out by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in the form of professional interest in affairs of the county, V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Chamber of Commerce, severely criticized the Angel city organization for its "gall" in attempting to grab everything in Southern California and claiming it for Los Angeles. He stressed particularly publication in a magazine sponsored by the Los Angeles organization of an article reciting the industrial activities in that city and listing as plants there three big, successful manufacturing concerns located at Orange.

Should Forget Los Angeles
"The quicker we forget Los Angeles, the better off we will be," shouted the secretary.

"We should quit leaning on the broken crutch of the big city," he added, in emphasizing an appeal for great co-operation or organizations of the county in making this wonderland more wonderful.

Johnson's criticism was an incident of reports by G. W. Finch and George Raymer, both of Fullerton, on Fullerton's recent battle to locate the Southern Branch of the University of California at Fullerton.

"Orange county didn't get the university because it couldn't get it," Johnson said. "The site proposition was cut and dried when the Los Angeles committee was appointed. Subsequent hearings and deliberations were farces—they were a blind."

Finch said the fight had developed two things—that Orange county communities can get together on any project of importance to the county, and that Los Angeles is just as selfish as ever.

"The state is now looking for a site for a penitentiary and we will help Los Angeles get that institution," Finch said, in concluding.

No Honest Man in Los
"If Diogenes was looking in the dark with a lantern for an honest man he never would go to Los Angeles," Raymer said, in expressing his appreciation to organizations and residents of Orange county for the splendid cooperation given in the fight.

L. F. Coburn, president of the associated chambers; Fred Ahlborn, county publicity agent, and chairman of the water conservation committee of the body, and Leon Whitsett, county supervisor, sounded notes of warning of possible water conditions in the county if steps are not taken to conserve waste waters.

Ahlborn said that the water level here is five feet lower than it has been in the history of the county. Pointing out that a few years ago water in a well at the home of Robert Shaw, in Santiago canyon, was only eight feet below the surface, Whitsett said it now is 12 feet to water. The water level in wells in the Santa Ana river is 20 feet below last year, he added.

Ahlborn also submitted an interesting report on the number of new industrials located in Orange county since Jan. 1, 1924, employees numbering 818, and the wage distribution being $1,500,000.

Advise Park Purchase
S. W. Stanley of Tustin, offered a resolution adopted at a meeting of a group of county men at Anaheim recently, recommending that the supervisors purchase a park site near the center of population and property for a beach park. While not mentioned, the latter recommendation was accepted as referring to efforts to block the location of a negro colony near Huntington Beach by purchase of the site for a park. The resolution will be acted on at the next meeting.

Stanley said the center of population is at the corner of Fairhaven avenue and Flower street, West Orange.

H. A. Lake, of Garden Grove, was elected president; George W. Finch, Fullerton, vice president, and George Raymer, Fullerton, was reelected secretary, each being chosen without opposition.

The program committee offered delightful entertainment for the visitors, the Santa Ana chamber being host. Dr. F. W. Staibach was chairman. During the service of the dinner, orchestral music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs.

The Well-Dressed Man

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

SEPARATE WAISTCOATS AGAIN?

Some time back, when the writer foretold that men's clothes were destined to take on something of the bold character of women's dress, this prediction was greeted with hee-haws. Hasn't it come true? The most daring effects have been adopted—brilliant web belts; vivid golf stockings; splashy knitted sweaters; colored collars and hat-bands, not omitting the lighter, brighter tones that are to be met everywhere in suits. All this is traceable to the recognition by Americans of the fact that color be speaks youth, sunshine and "Glad I'm Alive!" The Englishman has long been aware of this. He is a veritable dreadnaught in dress, favoring awning stripes and horse-blanket checks that make an Alpine sunset look like a black cat up a dark alley on a moonless night. However, he studies his colors and blends them, and that is the secret of keeping within the boundaries of good taste.

It doesn't make a scintilla of difference how "loud" the colors you wear may be, if only they harmonize or contrast engagingly and effectively. It is this intelligent use of color that, in time, will make us the best-dressed nation in the world, as we are already the best-dressed in the cut, fit and tailoring of our clothes. Don't shrink from color. Don't stick to "quiet" or "gentle" or "conservative" effects in the misbelief that only they are smart.

Character and individuality rest for the expression as much upon the color of a man's dress, as upon its style. Indeed, there is more style in color, which is a man's own choice, than in the mere cut or body-lines of clothes which, with very slight variations, are practically the same. So, again, show your colors. Brighten the "T" and "M" of your personality count to blend colors. Make the "T" and "M" of your personality count to blend colors.

Concurrent with the vogue of more and bolder color is the reviving fashion toward different patterns or "fancy" waistcoats of the type illustrated here. These are made of cashmere, flannel, line, cotton, silk or silk intermixtures in stripes, checks, figures and solid pastel shades. The style is not a new one. It was high in favor twenty years ago when men dressed with more care and character. A "fancy" waistcoat brightens up a dark suit astonishingly, but it should not, usually, accompany a light one, as this creates an excess of color.

FARCE COMEDY, PAIR OF SIXES, MAKES BIG HIT

Interest in "Her Husband's Wife," the rollicking farce comedy to be presented at Ebell auditorium tonight by the Raymond Players, of Pasadena, was considerably heightened today among Santa Ana theater-goers, who last night laughed a hilarious evening away at their performance of "A Pair of Sixes," given under auspices of the Ebell society.

Four years in stock at the Raymond theater in Pasadena have given the little group of talented players a sure and certain touch in presenting their plays and their choice of two farce comedies for their Santa Ana appearance was in response to the ever-present demand to be entertained.

Loose Bet, Plays Butler

Easily carrying off stellar honors was Victor Donald, in the part of "T. Boggs Johnson," member of the firm of the "Eureka Digestive Pill company," and forced through losing a game of poker, to play the part of a butler in the winning partner's home for one year. The amusing situations arising from the change give rise to the action of the two final acts of the farce and offered Donald the opportunity for clever work. In addition to being one of the masculine leads in the company, Donald is co-director with the other leading man, Wendell Wilson, who played "George B. Nettleton," winner in the famous poker game, with the skill and power to be expected from a director.

Charming, jealous, so emotional as to become hysterical at a moment's notice, Miss Betty Thayne did clever acting as the wife of "Nettleton," with the butler "Boggs" subject to her order.

Miss Grace Frederick was particularly charming as "Florence Cole," the faithful sweetheart, who finally extricates "Boggs" from his butlership.

Many Funny Situations
Makeup, appearance and acting of Miss Isabel Garretton, as "Cordelia," the little cockney servant, brought a laugh at her every appearance and her admiration for the supposed butler gave rise to many funny situations.

Other parts were acceptably played by Eleanor Hart and Ferris Benjamin, both of whom will appear in tonight's offering and undoubtedly win hosts of new friends for the Raymond Players.

The curtain will rise at 8:15 o'clock and a few excellent seats may still be obtained at the Santa Ana bookstore, or at the box office of the clubhouse tonight. Ebell's proceeds from the two nights of comedy will all go in the general treasury to help meet current expenses of the club. The ways and means committee of which Mrs. William L. Deimling is chairman, is sponsoring the engagement of the Players.

Music Between Acts
Tonight's performance will have musical features between acts as did last night's, when Miss Lois Allen, brilliant young pianist and pupil of Miss Leonora Tompkins, gave piano selections in the interval before the curtain for the first act and the High School Boys' quartet, directed by Miss Louise Mansfield, sang between acts.

The quartet is composed of Will Schleicher, Walter Wurster, Terry Stephenson and Ronald Buell, and their work was most pleasing. Their director, Miss Mansfield, was at the piano.

Tonight the High School Girls' quartet, comprising Misses Eva Turton, Helen Glancy, Madeleine Moase and Lorene Croddy, will sing. Miss Moase will give piano-logues and Miss Helen Lutz and Merrill Bauer, violin pupils of Ollie Mae Enlow Matthews, will play, with lone Tunison Peck as accompanist.

SCORES SUCCESS

Victor Donald

Co-director and leading man with Wendell Wilson, of the Raymond Players, Pasadena, who scored a success in enacting a butler role as result of a lost bet, in "A Pair of Sixes," presented last night at Ebell auditorium under auspices of Ebell society.

BIG CHORUS WILL SING AT SERVICE

Tonight, at the evangelist meeting at the First Baptist church, a "Rainbow Chorus" of 100 boys and girls will sing. The young folk have been under leadership of Evangelists Amy Lee Stockton and Rita Gould. Blanche Adams, a child of promise will sing a solo, "That Sweet Story of Old," and Katherine Hall, 6 years old, of Los Angeles, will sing two solos. Accompanying the chorus numbers as sung by the boys and girls, there will be rainbow streamers and rainbow effects of different kinds. Eight chorus numbers will be sung by the boys and girls.

Miss Stockton will preach tonight on the subject, "Right About Face." The meeting last night at the Baptist church was said to have been one of great interest. It was "family night" and a large number of families attended. The song service, the audience was given the privilege of calling for favorite songs. Dr. S. P. Langford attended the service with a delegation from Fullerton, and sang a duet with Miss Gould. The largest family present was that of Mrs. Mary A. Ridner, 16 members attending.

Miss Stockton's message dealt with effect of Paul's sermon on Mars hill, in Athens, when some mocked and others procrastinated, and some believed. The evangelist declared that these three classes of listeners could be found in practically every audience to which the gospel is proclaimed.

YES, THE WAR IS OVER NOW

Sergeant John J. Loftus, last man of the A. E. F., here is being greeted by his mother on his arrival in New York from France and Germany. He went overseas early in 1917 and has been there ever since, serving of late in the graves registration service. Inset, Sergeant Loftus.

AUTO TRAFFIC IN DETROIT IS GREAT PROBLEM

DETROIT, March 27.—The mother city of the automobile industry is finding it necessary to educate her motorists in traffic regulations. And it's costing them $500,000 a year for her to act as teacher.

The traffic situation has become so acute that drastic measures are necessary to protect both pedestrian and motorist. The 300,000 machines, augmented by 500 "dare-devil" jitneys, attempting to make up for a much needed rapid transit service all try to concentrate during business hours in an area less than a half mile square. Consequently a pedestrian has become to be looked upon as fair game for any driver.

Establish Violations Bureau
To combat the growing seriousness of the situation, a bureau of traffic violations was established last August. This bureau not only recommends the new rules for parking and driving, but also sees to their enforcement. The cost of operating the bureau amounts to $35,000 a month at present. The police are now nabbing 25,000 violators a month and fines collected totaled close to $250,000 during the past six months. That shows a small profit to the city.

The police running the bureau are all business. When they begin, 300 policemen averaged 1100 hours a month in court getting only $6750. Last month, a light one, 12 officers came into court and remained 45 hours, but gathered in $22,500 in fines. The victims spent but five minutes apiece, whereas before they had to stick around three and a half hours.

Pay Without Seeing Judge
The secrets is an arrangement whereby those who desire may plead guilty and pay their fine without seeing the judge.

Even judges have the spirit of speed. Russell Wherritt was hailed in for not observing a "stop" street.

"Five dollars," quoted the judge when John pleaded guilty.

"I'll pay the fine, but I want

Says Musicians Can Learn Art In Home Schools

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 27.—"As complete a musical education can be had in America today as in Europe," Hugo Kortschak, well known violinist and instructor at the Yale School of Music, said in an interview here.

"Europe has a musical history much the longer," Kortschak said, "and ability among its teachers has been handed down from generation to generation, but the European system lacks individual attention, the interest and sympathy that is so characteristic of America."

"America has been handicapped in music because it began without the development of centuries back of European effort, but there are American composers today who are writing music equal to any of the best Europe is producing. Our method is developing."

"America is the goal today toward which most European musicians are working. I receive many letters from old friends of mine on the continent who want to know if there is any chance to establish themselves here."

"Music is a part of life, an expression of emotion and life must be understood to make sincere interpretations. This America is beginning to understand and development is proceeding rapidly. Many American schools are today as good as any on the continent."

to explain. "This court is busy. You pleaded guilty. Ten dollars is your charge now."

"I'll pay that, but I did want to explain," "Twenty-five dollars," said the judge.

Russell departed, explaining volubly to his wife outside. And Sergeant Burns, in charge of the bureau, refuses to estimate how long it will take to educate them. The best result getter to date, he thinks, are the automatic "stop" and "go" towers.

FINE DRIVERS ON SPEEDING CHARGES

The first Friday "speeders" court, was held by Justice Kenneth Morrison today. Five drivers were fined a total of $145, and one offender was sentenced to five days in the Orange county jail, the term being suspended.

Following is the list of those fined: B. B. Minnes, Beverly Hills, 45 miles an hour, $35; W. C. Bertrand, Los Angeles, 45 miles an hour, $35; E. C. Boardman, Los Angeles banker, 45 miles an hour, $35; E. F. Birge, Pasadena, 43 miles an hour, $25; H. A. Curtis, Los Angeles, 41 miles an hour, $15.

George O'Hara, Los Angeles youth, received the suspended sentence.

Seeking Feudal Remedies for Modern Trouble

NEW YORK, March 27.—Privately owned towns and cities, built and run like any other private business and inhabited only by such persons and concerns as conform to the proprietor's ideas of desirability, are the solution, in the opinion of C. L. Delbridge of St. Louis, Mo., of the problems of politics, crime and general inefficiency and lack of co-ordination in public affairs. So sure is he of this that he is building a privately owned town in the Ozark mountains, and the first bus recently made the trip from St. Louis to the town site over the line established by him.

LARGEST CLAMSHELL

NEW YORK, March 27.—The world's largest clamshell, weighing 20 pounds, is in the New York Museum of Natural History. This clam was native to the Indian ocean. The shells are so hard that natives made ax heads of them.

A record number of books were published in Great Britain last year, the total being 12,706. Fiction heads the list, comprising one-tenth of the total number.

BRUIN IS EVICTED.

SULTAN, March 27.—Pulling a long crosscut saw through a big hollow cedar log in preparing stove-wood, Earl Warren and son routed out a black bear which had selected the fallen tree for a hibernation den. The bear scraped its back against the naked saw teeth in escaping, leaving behind a bunch of black fur.

Ana guests together with those from Anaheim and Los Angeles.
The absence from home of Mrs.
Rhodes who is again with the Denishawn Dancers as business manager, was, as always, a regrettable thing to the friends who so thoroughly enjoy her brilliant and sparkling personality and her gracious hospitality, but her mother, Mrs. Edwin Hamilton, acted as hostess and accorded the same kindly and gracious welcome, aiding Mr. Rhodes in all details of the evening.

The home on Kenmore Drive was gay with flowers and a pleasant musical program was given by pupils of Mr. Rhodes. Those appearing were Miss Mildred Ware and Miss Kathleen Ingelhart, both giving contralto solos; Mrs. Ross of Los Angeles, soprano soloist in the church choir organization directed by Mr. Rhodes, Reginald Taylor of Anaheim, baritone, and Monroe Sharpless tenor soloist of this city.

W. H. Lench, one of the editors of "Four," a quarterly magazine of verse, gave very interesting readings including "The Santa Fe Trail," and several of his own poems. Mr. Rhodes spoke in an informal manner, emphasizing the qualities that go to make a true artist, after which guests were invited to the dining-room where a delicious little buffet supper was served. Mrs. Hamilton was assisted in her hostess duties by Miss Ruth Armstrong and Cecil Fross Willits of this city. Miss Marcel-line Hoppes, Miss Christine Berghofer and Mrs. Harry Rhodes.

Other guests from this locality included Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Garroway, Mr. and Mrs. Scales, Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Mayer, Monroe
Sharpless and Glenn Merrill.
Previous to the evening function,
Mr. Rhodes and Mrs. Hamilton had entertained at an informal little dinner party where covers were laid for the entertaining hosts, and for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rhodes, Miss Ruth Armstrong,
Mrs. Willits, Miss Marcelle
Hoppes, Miss Berghofer and Monroe Sharpless.

Missionary Society

The Woman's Missionary society and the Estella Daniel church met at luncheon in the church basement on Wednesday and a most delightful hour was spent. The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. H. A. Allen under whose able supervision an exceptionally interesting and instructive program was presented.
Extracts from letters from Miss Grace Rowley were read by Mrs.
J. R. Goodwin expressing thanks for a small gift recently sent by the society. Miss Ida Mitchell was in charge of the meeting whose topic was Japan, and she called upon Mrs. N. B. Pierce to lead the devotionals.

Choosing the twelfth chapter of Romans as her theme Mrs. Pierce beautifully developed the "key" word consecration and its varied phases in transforming mind, body and soul.

Mrs. George Smith gave a graphic resume of the attitude of Japan toward the U. S. since the passing of the Exclusion act. She spoke of the shattered relations existing between the missionaries and their former Japanese friends.

The reports from the annual Presbyterial were given and the election of Mrs. Hayes as president of the Presbyterial was announced.
To fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mrs. Clellan, a "gift of gold," a purse containing $220 was presented Mrs. Clellan as expressing the love and esteem of her co-workers. A basket of flowers of many varieties accompanied the gold. Mrs. Harry Lewis was elected as one of the vice-presidents of the Presbyterial.

Mrs. E. M. Smiley reported on the parent of "Varied Talent" whose object was to emphasize the needs of the Year Book of Prayer.
She told of novel methods to awaken interest. Mrs. Allen then gave a telling illustration presented by a delegate and Mrs.
Roberts sang touchingly "I Gave
My Life for Thee, What Hast Thou Given for Me?" Mrs. J. N. Osborne spoke eloquently upon the devotional hour service conducted by Dr. Lennen on Wednesday fore-

Quiet Home Wedding Is Followed By Dinner Party

A quiet but charming wedding of Wednesday night, March 25, united Mrs. Della Messick and John Reynolds, a well-known realtor of the city. The home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. W.
Bonham at 1036 West Fifth street, was decked in spring flowers in honor of the event for which only the closest relatives were assembled.

The bride was gown in brown crepe satin and was unattended.
The solemn marriage service was read by the pastor of the United Brethren church, the Rev.
Logan Harter whose young daughter, Miss Elise Harter, was among the few wedding guests.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bonham presented a very enjoyable little dinner party for which the table was attractively centered with carnations and sweet peas. Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr.
and Mrs. Bonham, the newly-wedded pair, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs.
Harter, Miss Elise Harter, Miss Esther Messick, young daughter of the bride, and little Miss Joy
Bonham, daughter of the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds are deferring their honeymoon trip until mid-summer and are already pleasantly settled in their own home at 1132 West Fourth street.

noon. The subject was "Stewardship."
Miss Pollock then gave two vocal numbers charming her audience by the sweetness and power of her clear young voice. Mrs. Pollock accompanied her.

Mrs. T. S. Blair brought the message from Dr. McIntosh's address, "Remember that Jesus Christ died for the dead according to my gospel," and also forcibly upon the all-important word "remember."
Mrs. E. P. Stafford reported the address of Mrs. Schultz, secretary of the home base. Her theme was winning of every woman to the Missionary society. She presented some new methods and voiced the desire the make missions a larger work and urged taking the watchword, "One-woman-one."

Mrs. Williams spoke of the Forsythe Memorial school of which Miss Rosamond Norman is acting principal, and described "The cost of Pleasure," a pageant put on by the girls of Forsythe school. This society has placed one Mexican girl in this school. Mrs. Chapman reproduced the play elicited by the question, "What would five thousand dollars do in the mission fields?"

Mrs. Galloway gave an account of the work of the Rev. F. Mitchell among the Navajo Indians at Ganadizona and related amusing incidents of the Indian. Spot-whiskers-on-chin when making his first trip away from the reservation.

Mrs. W. E. Roberts told of the communion services conducted by Dr. Lelschman.

The final numbers upon the program were the echoes of the Young People's meetings given in a comprehensive manner by the Misses Mary Grisset and Hazel Crawford.

Day Nursery Benefit
Card Party Scores
Huge Success

One of the largest and most successful afternoon gatherings among Ebell women was that of yesterday when an enthusiastic response came to members of a committee sponsoring a card party as a Day Nursery benefit.

In fact so extremely enthusiastic was the response that even the spacious quarters of the Ebell club were taxed to their utmost and it became a problem as to where card players might be seated.

In all, 69 tables were employed and were placed in banquet room, section rooms, lounge, wide foyer,
and finally on the stage of the banquet room. Every one was taken and there were in addition, a few women who, desiring to aid a worthy cause but not caring for cards, devoted their time to hemming for the club's linen supply.

The Kiwanis club graciously left the artistic decorations of their Tuesday night party in place for the committee and with the addition of many baskets of flowers placed advantageously, the clubhouse presented a truly beautiful sight.

Attractive little salt and pepper shakers in blue and yellow lustre were awarded to the one holding high score at each table. At the hour delicious sandwiches and the home made cookies accompanied the fragrant "cup that cheers."
Mrs. Stearns, demonstrator of the Holsum Bakery products, made and donated half the sandwiches.

Mrs. Emrys D. White, chairman of the committee sponsoring the affair, was most enthusiastic today in her appreciation of the support offered her and her committee and stated that at the least they would have $150 to turn in to the Day Nursery.

Assisting Mrs. White in all her plans and labors were Mrs. W. B.
Winslow, Mrs. J. Russell Bruff,
Mrs. Walter Vandermast, Mrs.
N. Harding, Mrs. Charles Carothers and Mrs. Joseph Metzgar.

Business Women's Club

Digging up much latent and hitherto unsuspected talent among members of the Business and Professional Women's club, the March social committee, Mrs. Olive Lopez, Miss Lena Thomas and Miss Ruth Walker have planned a program for next Monday's luncheon hour at St. Ann's Inn, which promises to be a surprise in more ways than one. In the first place the program refuses to give a hint as to the nature of the entertainment or the names of those to take part. So members who assemble at the noon hour will have all manner of surprises to greet them, including those of personalities and those of talents.

Parliamentary Section

Mrs. F. A. Marks, leader of the Parliamentary section of Ebell society, has announced an interesting

Hawaiian Trip Offers Incentive For Gay
Bon Voyage Party

Honoring Miss Opal Davis, secretary to W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National bank, who is leaving on Tuesday, April 7, for a vacation trip to the Hawaiian Islands, Miss Gertrude Potts and Miss Mildred Cook were hostesses at a delightful bon voyage party last night at the home of Miss Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F.
Cook at 314 South Broadway.

The spacious rooms were bright with fresh spring flowers and the thirty young women present, all members of the First National bank with games of 500 and other diversions appropriate to the event.

Miss Davis received an acceptable guest prize, and awards for high scores went to Mrs. E. J.
Dietrich and Miss Melvina Frye and those for low to Miss Veronica Merick and Miss Grace Nuskly. The scores were in the shape of tickets.

In serving the dainty refreshments the trip was suggested by nut baskets of tiny traveling bags and the cakes accompanying the ice cream fashioned like little boats.

Many good wishes for a pleasant voyage were showered upon the popular young secretary, whose traveling companion will be a friend, Miss Bertha Smith of Long Beach. They are sailing on the President Van Buren from Wilmington and will pass three days in San Francisco before sailing for the interesting islands, where they will linger for six weeks.

Orange Woman's Club Presenting Party

Members of the Ebell society were much interested today in an invitation from the Orange Woman's club to a unique card party to be held in their new clubhouse next Monday night with playing to begin at 8 o'clock.

The unique feature is in the hostess committee which is made up of the club members under thirty years of age. Attractive prizes and appetizing refreshments are a part of the evening's program and many Santa Ana Ebell members and their husbands contemplate being among those present.

Local Verse-Writer Represented In Anthologies

It was with a proprietary interest in one of their members who is rapidly achieving success in the writers' field that members of Creative Arts and Community Players learned that the 1925 Anthology of Newspaper Verse contains a very pleasing poem of Miss Beulah May's the lovely "Eucalyptus Fire" which appeared some months ago in the columns of The Register.

Miss May, who is a member of the Sculptors' Guild of Southern California, achieved her first artistic success in her chosen field of sculpture, developing her writing ability only in the two years.
She is now represented in four anthologies whose contents are taken from representative writings of poets of today.

These include in addition to the Newspaper Anthology, which is compiled each year by Franklin Pierre Davis, "Modern American Lyrics" compiled by Stanley A.
Coblentz and published by Montom, Balch and Company, and the "Best Poems of 1923" and "Best Poems of 1924" selected by L. A. G. Strong, English university man and author of "Dublin Days."

Included in the three last-named books are poems by many of the most prominent verse-writers of the present day and friends of Miss May are congratulatory that she is represented in such standard works.

FINANCE FIRM WILL ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

Friends and clients of the George A. Bown company and the Second National Securities company, will be entertained tomorrow at the company's new suite of offices in the Moore building. Light refreshments, flowers for ladies and complimentary tickets to the Santa Ana Auto show have been announced as part of the day's program.

Officials of the company, including George A. Bown, president and founder; B. J. Ness, vice president; J. C. Reilly, manager of the insurance department; and J. D. Gould of the San Diego sales office, are expected to be present at the entertainment, which marks the installation here of the company's full financial service.

The investment branch opened for business in the Reinbau building in 1921, under the management of John P. Williams, and has enjoyed a steady growth. Larger quarters were secured in the Moore building last fall, and, as the company continued to receive support from local investors on an ascending scale, it was decided to bring the finance and insurance departments, headed by E. A. Mitchell, here also. This occasioned moving into the present suite of four rooms on the second floor of the building.

The Bown company's plan is threefold: investment, financing and insurance. The savings of a large number of local people are grouped together and used as capital by the Second National Securities company.

Williams, who has had the leadership in establishing Bown service in Orange county, has become closely affiliated with civic organizations in Santa Ana, and believes that this territory offers unlimited progress to useful financial enterprise. In the coming to Santa Ana of E. A. Mitchell, as local manager of the finance and insurance departments, this community is gaining another substantial citizen, and a man of wide experience in financial matters.

HOLD LAST RITES FOR ULM SATURDAY

Brief funeral services will be held at the grave at Fairhaven cemetery, at 2 p. m., tomorrow, for Earl Ulm, who died in Los Angeles on Wednesday. He was 34 years of age.

Mr. Ulm was born in Santa Ana and was the son of N. A. Ulm, who was prominent here many years ago in politics and business.

Following the death of N. A. Ulm, some 12 years ago, the family moved from Santa Ana, and has lived most of the time since at Los Angeles.

Death occurred at the home of the mother, 5016 Marathon avenue, Los Angeles. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m., at 1035 South Flower street, Los Angeles. Others bereaved are a sister, Miss Audrey Ulm, and brother, La Mar Ulm.

Decedent was a grandson of Mrs. N. N. Abercrombie, of 510 East Fifth street, and a nephew of the late Mrs. C. E. Brock. By marriage, he was a cousin of Mayor J. W. Tubbs.

Expect 1200 to Be Present At Elks' Ceremony

Installation of officers of Santa Ana lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks on April 14, will be conducted by Joseph Burke, past exalted ruler and past district deputy grand president, it was announced today by W. W. Wasser, secretary of the lodge.

An elaborate program is being worked out for the evening and an attendance of at least 1200 Elks from all parts of the Southland is anticipated.

Burke is one of the best known Elks in the Southland. He recently resigned as U. S. district attorney.

WHOLE WORLD CONTRIBUTES TO MEDICINE

Ginger from India. Iodine from Chile—Olive Oil from Italy—Epsom Salts from England—Menthol from Japan and roots and herbs from almost every country in the world contribute their share towards alleviating the ills of the race. No other medicine, however, compounded from roots and herbs has ever attained such a marvelous record for success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For over fifty years it has been overcoming some of the most stubborn ailments of womanhood, and is constantly growing in popularity and favor.—Adv.

21 S. A. College Students Gain Honor Ratings

Twenty-one students of the Santa Ana junior college were elected to membership in the college honor society for high school scholarship rating, according to a report given out for the last semester by Miss Lella Watson, faculty advisor.

The list is one of the largest ever issued at the local college. Unusual scholastic achievements have been made this year by the college students, Miss Watson said.

Miss Ruth Gredis set a record for scholarship honors, winning the highest rating ever given to a student in the 10 years the college has been functioning. Miss Gredis received a total of 59 minor points, nearly double the number necessary for scholarship honors.

The highest grades possible were received by Miss Gredis in five of the six subjects of her course. In the sixth course, a grade of "B," denoting above average, was made.

Other students who stood high in the scholarship list were Miss Helen Delatour, Miss Mary Sheffer and Miss Evelyn Cooper. The complete honor society roll, in the order of the students' rating, is as follows:

Ruth Gredis, Helen Delatour, Mary Sheffer, Evelyn Cooper, Dorothy Leonard, Wilma Silver, Kathryn Ryan, Willard Stewart, Lucille Allen, Dora McWaters, Louise Griffith, Elizabeth Baker, Lois Hallman, Phyllis Oliver, Dorcas Leonard, Stuart Carrier, Blanch Thompson, Vearl Boyer, Lillian Kirkwood, Henry Powell and Clair Hanson.

HOUSE BURNS WHEN WHISKEY STILL BURSTS

A 3-room house at the intersection of Brookhurst avenue and Katella road, near Stanton, was burned to the ground late yesterday, when a 10-gallon whiskey still, concealed in one of the rooms, exploded. The loss is estimated at $500, by B. A. Staffel, owner of the house.

Staffel reported to the sheriff's office that he rented the house to two Mexicans several weeks ago. No one was in the house at the time of the explosion, and members of the sheriff's force have not been able to locate the tenants.

The still, a copper affair, was taken to the sheriff's office last night by Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy, and F. B. Howell, who was badly damaged by the blast and fire.

Another Caught By Handkerchief Trick; Costs $34

The old handkerchief trick has gathered into its folds another victim, and Jim Medina, Delhi resident, is exactly $34 poorer than he was yesterday, on account of it.

Medina reported to police that two Spaniards had introduced themselves to him and suggested that all three pool their money, at the same time flashing a roll of bills that was about the largest he had ever seen. The money was pooled, and after several little articles had been purchased, Medina's new friends gave him the handkerchief in which he saw them place all the money and told him to wait for them.

Medina waited for some time, and when his friends did not return, could not resist the temptation of taking a peep at all the money. He untied the handkerchief and found several neatly rolled sheets of a newspaper.

URGES DEVELOPMENT AND CONSERVATION OF WATER AS PARK'S SUPPLY FAILS

Water is king! That familiar watchword, handed down from the pioneers of the land, seems to have been forgotten by the present generation in its race for good roads, great harbors, fine buildings and more population.

Water is king. But the king is abdicating.

The water supply at Orange, water supply is gone. He is the park commissioner.

"We have closed the rest rooms and are providing sanitation facilities on high ground, in order to keep from closing the park. At present we are testing out a new source of water supply, which may save us from that course," he said.

"A deep water well is impractical there, if not wholly impossible, because of a rock formation at a depth of 80 feet, which no one has penetrated."

"In view of these alarming indications, can we afford to procrastinate? I say no."

Water conservation! That is the paramount issue of the day—

Leon O. Whitsell, of Orange, county supervisor, agricultural authority and practical conservationist, today gave this ominous view of the present and future.

Foundations Are Crumbling.

With the water supply failing, the county's very foundation is crumbling, he declared. The situation presents an ultimatum to the people and that ultimatum cannot be ignored, he warned.

In his earnest appeal for realization of the danger, Whitsell urged that the county set aside all business for that of conserving water and take steps to develop every possible source of supply.

"Our ability to develop and our capacity for community growth and progress is measured exactly by the size and certainty of our water supply," he said.

"What shall we do with good roads, great harbors or fine parks and buildings, if we have no water?—How will we get population or industries or commerce? Do these things come to a desert?"

Says Irvine Is Correct.

"James Irvine struck the correct note, the other day, when he answered a question why the Irvine company was not going in extensively for subdividing. He said that subdividing was foolish until an adequate water supply was first assured. His words, I think, were: 'Water marks our only limitation.' That is a most apt expression of the situation."

"Mr. Irvine and others who are in a position to know the facts and who are far-sighted enough to see where the facts are leading, are wasting no time in acting upon their realization. Witness the negotiations now pending between the Irvine company, the John T. Carpenter Water company of El Modena, and the Serrano Water company, of Villa Park, to build a dam in the Santiago canyon."

"Their course should be an example to the rest. It is to the back country—back into the hills—that we must go for our water supply. What is now being done in the way of conservation, such as the tri-counties project at Barton Flats, is good, but it is not enough. We should let not a drop of water get away from our watersheds."

Park Supply Is Gone.

Whitsell made the startling revelation that the county park's violin obligatos. They were two Indian love-songs by Lieurance, "The Red Birds Sing O'er the Crystal Spring," and "By the Waters of Minnetonka." Maurice Phillips sang "O' Song of Songs," by Moya, with Allen Revill at the piano; Mrs. Horace B. Van Dien sang the "Song of Waiting," from Madame Butterfly, to Mr. Revill's accompaniment, all the songs chosen being particularly appropriate to the June bridal theme of the preceding program.

Child Plays Saxophone

Little Miss Grace Rogers made her first appearance as an entertainer when she gave a saxophone rendering of "Lightly Float My Bonny Boat," after Mr. Cianfoni lifted her to a table that all might have the pleasure of watching as well as hearing her.

Mrs. Spicer consented to give a violin number, choosing a beautiful "Melodie," composed by Vice-President Dawes.

Miss Georgia Bell Walton concluded the program with a violin rendering of a brilliant "Ballade," after which Mr. Cianfoni introduced Miss Antoinette Ruth Sabel, who has made industrial music such a feature in Los Angeles, working in connection with the chamber of commerce. She delivered an address on music.

VOTED FOR 18 PRESIDENTS.

Hefflon, of East Haddam, who has the distinction of living under every president from Andrew Jackson to Calvin Coolidge and voting for 18 presidents, observed his 9th birthday anniversary at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Stephen Brainard of Westchester. Mr. Hefflon cast his first ballot for Franklin Pierce and his last for Coolidge.

NO MORE ARMY HARDTACK.

PARIS, March 27.—A journeyman baker here claims to have found a formula which will keep the loaves in an edible condition for months or even years. Recent laboratory experiments have proved that the loaves could be kept relatively fresh for 10 months, while the inventor, Jean Matti, says this period will be extended to two years.

Nab Two, Recover $100,000 In Jewels

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—Fingerprints on an automobile windshield led to the arrest of Tom Copage, 31, and Fred Harris, 34, and recovery of approximately $100,000 in jewelry they are alleged to have stolen.

The gems were taken from an automobile belonging to the E. Bastheim company, wholesale jeweler, on March 11. With fingerprints the only clues to the theft, detectives brought about the arrest of Copage and Harris.

Harris was found in superior court where he was being tried on a charge of forgery. Copage was arrested later in an underworld haunt. The loot, carefully packed in a trunk, was found at a rooming house.

Cultist Arrested On Assault Count

OROVILLE, Calif., March 27.—The "House of Judah" today seemed about to topple to the ground. Mrs. Edward Rhodes, self styled "Roaring Lion" of the cult which gathered around Herman Schallow and moaned a dirge while their priestess burned him with a red hot iron, is in jail charged with "assault with an instrument capable of doing great bodily harm."

Rhodes is also under arrest, charged with being an accessory in the deed.

Schallow died two weeks after the burning, presumably from the injuries.

15,000 U. S. TARS GET SHORE LEAVE

SAN PEDRO, March 27.—Thousands of visitors arrived at San Pedro today on special trains from various parts of Southern California for the opening of "Navy Week" festivities. Fifteen thousand and jackies of the U. S. fleet at anchor here went on shore leave at the same time, giving the harbor a gala appearance.

The sailors were given the freedom of the city, with complimentary tickets to all theaters, free "cats," and other favors. Tonight the "gobs" and civilian visitors to the harbor will take part in a huge street dance, several brass bands providing music.

Civilians will be allowed to visit the warships from 1 to 5 P. M. daily until April 3, when the grand review of the fleet will take place off Point Permin.

SENTENCE M'COY TO 3 TO 38 YEARS

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—Kid McCoy was sentenced to a prison term of three to 38 years today for his shooting rampage the morning after the slaying of Mrs. Teresa Moss.

McCoy's previous sentence of one to ten years for manslaughter in connection with Mrs. Moss' death will be served concurrently with his present sentence.

McCoy was sentenced by Superior Judge Charles Crall after motion of his attorneys for a new trial had been denied.

McCoy's attorneys indicated they would not appeal from the sentence, regarding it as a victory for the defense.

The ex-prize-fighter faces a maximum term behind the bars of 38 years, but it will be possible, should the parole board agree, for him to be released in three years.

Death Reveals Erb's Marriage

NEW YORK, March 27.—The fact that Newman Erb, the financier and railroad man who died Wednesday, had been married since last May, was unknown until he died.

Erb's first wife died in 1904 and his two daughters did not know of his second marriage until his death.

Mrs. Erb, who was Martha Trodden, was at his bedside when Erb died. Since their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Erb occupied adjoining apartments in New York city.

DELAY PUBLICITY ON TAX PAYMENTS

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The treasury department today ordered all internal revenue collectors not to make public the new income tax payments until Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair had scrutinized all figures on returns and given an official order for publication.

This will delay publication of the figures, expected within a few days, for at least two months, officials said.

The order was caused by the action of Noah Crooks, Kansas City revenue collector, in making public the names of several hundred taxpayers.

The newspaper which published the Kansas City returns probably will not be prosecuted, according to bureau officials, as there is no provision regarding premature publication. Crooks has been asked for an explanation.

This delay is expected to hold up publication until after the supreme court rules on the validity of the newspaper publication of returns in two cases against the Baltimore Post and the Kansas City Journal Post.

2 Coastguards Are Shot In Rum Chase

SEABRIGHT, N. J., March 27.—Two members of the Seabright coast guard crew were wounded today while pursuing a rum runner of the submarine chaser type off Seabright. Members of the Seabright crew allege the bullets were fired from a New York coast guard boat that mistook the speeding Seabright craft for a rum runner.

Bandit Prepares for Life Battle

Court Notes

Special letters of administration were asked today in a superior court petition filed by Mrs. Mabel Barge, of Santa Ana, in connection with the estate of her deceased mother, Laura J. Givens.

The estate, valued at $38,000, consists of residence property at 504 Cypress street, and ranch property between this city and Garden Grove; also a ranch between Placentia and Anaheim.

A petition for regular letters of administration had been previously filed. It was stated, but special administration was sought in order to give immediate attention to oranges that need care, it was said.

Leaves $40,000 Estate
Simeon A. Jones, who died in this city March 23, left a $40,000 estate to his widow, Mary Jones, and two sons, Edwin and Farel Jones, according to a superior court petition for letters of administration, on file today.

Youth Denied Probation
Claude Shipman, Placentia youth, found guilty of burglary, today was refused probation by Superior Judge F. C. Drumm, who ordered him sent to the Preston School of Industry at Lone, until he is 21. Shipman is now nearly 19.

Sent to San Quentin
Hubert Stephens, who purchased an automobile here for $800 with a worthless check, and then drove being being apprehended, was sentenced today by Superior Judge Z. B. West to a term of from 1 to 14 years at San Quentin. The court denied probation in the case.

Chaplin's Mother To Get More Time

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Mrs. Hannah Chaplin, aged and infirm mother of Charles and Sid Chaplin, screen comedians, probably will be granted a further stay in this country for medical treatment, it was indicated at the labor department today.

Mrs. Chaplin, a British subject, was granted permission temporarily to enter the country for treatment six years ago and has since been under care of doctors at Los Angeles. Her leave expired yesterday, but she was granted an indefinite stay pending final decision on her application to remain here.

Secretary of Labor Davis has been informed that the doctors attending Mrs. Chaplin believe she will be in condition to return to England within a year.

John D. Jr. Will Help Oil Probe

NEW YORK, March 27.—John D. Rockefeller Jr., is aroused at failure of certain oil company officials to appear at the government's request in the Teapot Dome oil leasing suit. "It is as much the duty of the officers of a corporation as it is of private citizens to observe both the letter and spirit of the law," Rockefeller declared today, "and in any company in which I am interested all the influence I have will be exerted to that end."

Is Doubting Thomas No Longer

"All medicines and doctors for stomach trouble proved worthless in my case. Everybody recommended something else and nothing helped, so I became a doubting Thomas as to any cure. While in St. Louis a party praised May's Wonderful Remedy so highly that I bought a bottle and I am now a doubting Thomas no longer." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. BUILD TRADING POST FOR "THUNDERING HERD"

For the production of Zane Grey's "The Thundering Herd," current attraction at the West End, an exact replica of an old-time trading post was built. Pioneers declared it was correct in every detail, according to their memories of old towns such as Fort Worth Village, Dodge City and Salt Lake City.

The post constructed for the picture was of the stockade type with logs ten feet in height, stuck in the ground and bound together to form a square enclosure. One side of this square, fronting the roadway, was formed by the post building, a log structure like the stockade. This had a sort of platform outside with steps leading down to the street and a door and windows into the store.

In the photoplay, the town is just starting to boom, as great numbers of hunters rush to the buffalo fields. Half a dozen buildings have sprung up about the post. These buildings are occupied by dance halls and saloons.

The picture realistically portrays the adventures of two of the many caravans that started for the far west. An exciting Indian battle and a thrilling buffalo stampede are among the many dynamic scenes in this photoplay.

Naturally, the characterizations in a story of this kind are of prime importance, and Director Howard realized that when he was assembling his cast, film fans are certain to approve his choice of such capable players as Jack Holt, Lois Wilson, Noah Beery and Raymond Hatton.

NORMA SHEARER IN DUEL ROLE AT WALKER'S

"Lady of the Night," Monta Bell's latest picture which closes tonight at Walker's goes down into the lowest level of New York society for one side of an intensely dramatic theme and up into aristocratic Fifth Avenue for the other. It is this marked contrast, gath-ered with conflicting loves of two girls in widely separated stations of life, that is said to make "Lady of the Night" one of the outstanding pictures of the year.

All the glitter and brilliance of high society is there, side by side, with the squalor of the slums and the picturesque night life of the underworld.

Molly, daughter of a convict, leaves a reformatory the same day that Florence, daughter of the judge who sent the other girl's father to prison leaves her convent. Molly falls in love with a young inventor, who on his upward climb meets Florence and the tangled web of hearts far removed from the social ladder affords the plot for one of the most dramatic pictures of the year.

Norma Shearer adds to her growing fame as an actress by portraying the dual-role of Molly and Florence. In this case, though, having the same actress in two roles is not simply an excuse for display of her histrionic ability.

"THE SWAIN" AT YOST TONIGHT, TOMORROW

The main stage at the Paramount Long Island studio has reared many a gorgeous and fantastic set for the making of motion pictures, but nothing in its past history approached the ball room scene of "The Swan," production which will be shown at the Yost tonight and tomorrow.

Adolphe Menjou, Ricardo Cortez and Frances Howard are featured. In design, workmanship, architectural fidelity and lavish detail it surpasses anything the film makers of the big Long Island plant have yet attempted.

The locale of the story is a snobbish little Balkan principality; time, the present. The biggest feast for the camera's eye, Marble columns, Gobelins tapestries (exact copies of authentic masterpieces), a florid balcony for the orchestra, gilded chair and benches; the whole mirrored in a polished parquet floor. On the right, flanking the side of the ball room, a glass gallery lined with statuary and marble benches.

A huge crystal chandelier is a big feature. It is not merely a motion picture "prop," either, for in its younger days it used to hang in the grand ball room of Delmonico's famous Fifth Avenue restaurant.

It is against such a background that much of the action of "The Swan" takes place—the gorgeous court reception, betrothal dinner, midnight dueling episodes, combining beauty, love interest and rapid-fire action.

PRESENT MEDAL TO LAGUNA WOMAN

LAGUNA BEACH, March 27.—Mrs. Edward Simons, state chairman of the international relations committee of the California Federation of Women's clubs, has received a medal from Paris, which has been given to all members of the original council of the Society for International Conciliation, by its founder, Baron D'Etiolles de Constant, a French pacifist.

The medal, which is of bronze, was designed by Eugene Carriere, and carries on the one side the sheaf of olive branches and a suitable motto in Latin. On the reverse side are two figures depicting human sympathy.

The Society for International Conciliation has lately been absorbed by the Carnegie Foundation Educational department, it having formerly been supported by the Carnegie Peace Foundation. The president of Columbia University, Nicholas Murray Butler, is also president of the Carnegie Foundation and it was through the friendship of the Butler family and the Simons family that Mrs. Simons was mentioned for the council. Mrs. Simons is an international figure in many efforts looking toward a future peace of the world and has but recently returned from the conference at Washington, D. C. where she was a delegate from California to discuss the "Cause and Cure of War."

Movie Chatterbox

As a matter of cold dollars and cents, has it been worth your parents' expenditure to rear you from baby-hood to the time when you can get out and scratch for yourself? And how long has it taken you to justify the parental investment?

This has been made the subject of interesting computation by Dorothy Mackaill, rising young screen actress, who takes herself seriously and is in turn taken seriously by picture producers.

Miss Mackaill's figures are especially significant for young women whose goal is the screen.

She reckons it must have cost approximately $1.50 per day to carry her through the first 10 years of her girlhood. Roughly, there are 3650 days in a decade. The total investment in Dorothy during that period was therefore about $5475.

More Expensive
Then, says Dorothy, she began to grow a bit more expensive. Dancing lessons were started. Parties required more elaborate frocks. School necessitated expenses. Altogether, she figures it cost her parents about $2.50 per day during the next five years. That added to the foregoing $5475 makes a total of $8975 for the first 15 years.

It was at this age that she first started to "scratch" a bit for herself. She secured a job with a musical showing in Paris, having left her London home for the stage. This job paid her $15 a week for the first six months, $25 for the succeeding six months. During the next year, with salary fluctuating, according to theatrical conditions abroad, she at no time earned over $40 per week. She was now 17.

Then, says Dorothy, she began to calculate her earnings up to the age of 18. During the last year of that period she was in America, appearing first in the Shubert Winter Garden, and later with Florenz Ziegfeld. Her salary at that time she estimates at $60 per week. Contributed $4000

From the age of 15 to 18, although earning most of her living, Dorothy's parents contributed some $4000.

Thus at the age of 18 her upkeep totaled $12,375. Against this, she had earned approximately $6000. At the rate of 6 per cent annual interest, Dorothy should have earned in salary totals $3168 up to her nineteenth year. She actually earned $6000. So Miss Mackaill considers herself a profitable investment, in the earning capacity her father's money provided.

She has been in motion pictures three and a half years. Computing her screen earnings over the period ending with completion of "The Mine With the Iron Door," Miss Mackaill had earned approximately $30,000. That sum added to the $6000 places her far in the clear as having justified the expenditure in her behalf. And the sum is considerably swelled by earnings in several pictures made for First National since "The Mine."

It is not Miss Mackaill's intention to publicize her earnings in pictures, but to present an interesting phase of the "living problem" as it is faced by screen candidates and their relatives.

VIOLA DANA, SILLS IN TEMPLE PICTURE

Milton Sills and Viola Dana are together again!

The two picture stars, who have played together on many occasions in the past, are the top-notchers in "As Man Desires," a highly romantic, colorful story of the Orient and the South Seas, which opens tomorrow at the Temple theater.

The two are billed as the co-featured players in this picture and are to be supported by an unusually strong cast including Ruth Clifford, Rosemary Theby, Tom Kennedy, Paul Nicholson, Lou Payne, Hector Sarno, Anna May Walthall, Edne Altemus and Frank Leigh.

In "As Man Desires," Sills, famed as "The Sea Hawk," enacts the part of a British army officer who, accused of murder, flees to Tahiti and becomes the notorious captain of a pearl fishing vessel.

Harry J. Elliott tonight, tomorrow night, and Sunday. Hear him sure tonight at the Church of the Nazarene, corner of Fifth and Parson street.

the pictures, it was thought advisable not to have the paintings applied directly to the walls of the room, as a fire would damage them beyond repair, so an arrangement was made for tacking the finished canvases to the cement wall and framing them in a narrow frame. By doing this, the pictures can be saved in case of emergency.

R. Clarkson Colman's early life was spent in Chicago, where, at an early age, he acquired the title of artist. Coming to Laguna Beach about nine years ago, he quickly became a real lover of the place and after traveling all over the world, was well content to settle down here. "For a steady diet," said Mr. Colman, "Laguna Beach hits the spot." Mr. Colman really has two studios, one back of the other, and both delightful to look upon. His place at Arch Beach is one of the most charming spots on the coast.

Criticized by French Artist Colman studied with A. W. Kenny, Henry A. Elkins and L. H. Yarwood, all well known landscape painters. Later, while abroad, Jean Paul Laurens gave him criticisms at the Julian Academy in Paris. His paintings are to be found in many of the larger galleries of the United States, and he has received many awards on his work.

Stephen Chalmers, the writer and critic, said of Mr. Colman: "Probably no painter of the west has more than Colman made so intensive a study of the sea, its vagaries, its moods, its colors, clear or vague, shifting and merging; its everlasting, ever-changing grace or movement."

Anthony Anderson, the Los Angeles critic, declared: "Colman has perfect technique in his work," and many other well known critics have been loud in praise of the Laguna Beach painter, who has put on canvas for the benefit of Santa Ana school children some of the impressions that he has gained in many years of intensive study.

Decidedly Against Corporal Punishment For Small Children

Santa Ana, Cal., March 26, '25.

Editor Register:—After reading an editorial in your paper the evening of the 24th on discipline for children, it seems to worry me, repeating itself over in my mind. I'm always interested in the children and their training, and this article gave me much food for thought.

I recall reading, some years ago, a few lines—though I do not remember at this particular time the name of the writer—in which a mother asked this question: "At what age should a mother begin the training of her child's mind?" And the answer, very direct, was: "Twenty-five years before its birth."

As I have made a study of life and its details I have come to think this is the key to the secret.

The training of the mind should begin in infancy, not to wait until the child has reached the age of three or four, or even twenty years of age.

I have known people to gasp with horror and say: "Just think of all the disgrace and humiliation our children have brought upon us." Or else they blame their children's associates.

In getting back to the punishment of children, there are some things I think are unpardonable. One is to strike a small child in any way, and another is to make a show of a child while being corrected.

All the blame seems to be placed on the children; you very rarely hear anything mentioned concerning the parents of these terrible children.

I think instead of spanking in the street in front of cars and into all kinds of danger, it would be a much wiser and a better policy to punish the parents of these children, and in public if necessary; because parents are alone responsible for these conditions. With the privileges and educational advantages that are offered to the people today, there is no need of using harsh measures to control the mind of a child.

Compare a child's life to the unfolding of a flower. Anyone growing flowers know they must have tender and careful attention, and like children require different methods for different flowers. No one ever saw a plant or flower that was crushed, kicked or beaten with a rod unfold any beauty.

I meet people every day who say: "O how I love flowers, but I never can make them grow." And yet they have little children, little lives entrusted to their care! These little ones are allowed to run the streets at all hours and in all kinds of danger; then if an accident occurs some unthinking person cries for public punishment for the child. I say punish the parent who should have trained that child to stay off the streets.

Just a few lines from a mother who knows there is a beautiful soul in every child born into the world, if the right method is used to develop its mentality.

Men and Women Read This It Will Interest You

A CERTAIN shoe merchant of the city made a statement not long ago in which he claimed that the Walk-Over $6.85 Shoe Sale was not fair, clean cut competition. He said that the people of Santa Ana had been trained and educated to pay big prices and that these sales spoiled the trade, as no one could make money on shoes at that figure.

Let us answer this gentleman by saying that we can and will continue to sell $10 and $12 Walk-Over shoes at these prices because the increased volume of business makes it possible so we can afford to sell cheaper. It permits us to give values. Therefore, once again, on Saturday, the 28th day of March, we are going to sell $10 and $12 Men's and Women's Walk-Over Shoes at $6.85.

We have extra salesmen to take care of the increased volume of business.

See our ad, in this paper on page 23.

DO FIRST WORK ON NEW CHAMBER HOME

Three prominent men of Santa Ana doffed their coats, rolled up their shirt sleeves and lifted shovels filled with dirt in the ground-breaking ceremonies yesterday in connection with the starting of work on the chamber of commerce home, adjoining St. Ann's Inn. Left to right, the men with shovels are A. J. Crookshank, president of the First National bank and president of St. Ann's Inn, Inc.; J. W. Tubbs, manager of the Reid Motor company and mayor of Santa Ana, and O. A. Haley, president and manager of O. A. Haley, Inc., and president of the chamber of commerce. Directors of the chamber and other interested persons also are shown in the picture.

GRAIN MARKET MANIPULATORS FACE ARREST

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Secretary of Agriculture Jardine will push criminal proceedings against individuals found to have conducted any manipulations in grain trading, he has announced. Jardine said that a report of his department, which he ordered to investigate the recent violent fluctuations in wheat on the Chicago board of trade, probably would be made within a few days.

Jardine, under the law, has power to revoke the license granted any board of trade to deal in grain futures and will carry it out if manipulation is shown.

He also can and will prosecute any individual connected with manipulations in the criminal courts.

The president's farm commission, of which Jardine is chairman, will meet here late in April or early in May to take up again its work of surveying the farmers' needs and conditions, Jardine said.

Jardine, in his first conference with Washington newspaper correspondents, said he wanted it "distinctly understood that I have no magic wand to wave over American agriculture to cure it of its ills."

"My aim will be to pick out a number of practical and constructive things which farmers can put into practice to get their business on a more satisfactory basis and push them hard," he said.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH BIG GIFT

The Christian Science Monitor of March 19 says: "The Christian Science Board of Directors has authorized the statement that $40,000, or any part thereof which may be needed, has been appropriated to be used for relief in the districts of the middle west of the United States, which was visited by the tornado. The collections at the two services in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., tomorrow, will be devoted to The Mother Church Relief Fund."

"The funds needed in this work will be disbursed without administrative expense through the Church's special representatives to those in need, regardless of religious beliefs. The $40,000 has been placed at the disposal of committees in the tornado area."

"As heretofore announced, any unexpended balance will remain in The Mother Church Relief Fund to be spent for charitable and benevolent purposes which may from time to time arise."

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Creates Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, nausea, gas, bloating, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from nature a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

OBSERVE RITES FOR LOCAL MAN

The impressive last rites of the Catholic church were said in St. Joseph's church this morning for Robert Kent Aitken, who died at his home on East Third street Tuesday morning. He was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Aitken.

The church was filled with sorrowing friends, the pastor, Monsignor Henry Eummelen, officiating at the mass, and at the grave in Fairhaven cemetery, many friends accompanying the body to its last resting place.

Monsignor Eummelen paid high tribute to the exemplary life of the young man, and offered him as a model to his friends and acquaintances. During his long years of suffering, he was never known to complain.

The pallbearers were young friends of the deceased, Arthur and Russell Daley, Harry and Clarence Simmons, Raymond O'Connor and Loren Geissel.

The Knights of Columbus recited the rosary last night for their member and this morning before the services the Altar society and League of the Sacred Heart offered the same devotion.

picked up the crayon and scored opposite her name the little cross which means a "strike." Soon there were a row of "strikes" and "spares" to her credit. The crash of the tenpins when she fired a ball was the surest praise. Men gathered from other alleys to watch her. She did not have to pay that game.

Mrs. Farr regularly bowls a score of around 190, and usually it is beyond 200. Once this winter she went to a high of 256, and two nights later she scored 257.

WHITTIER — Changes in the city administrative force were made by the city council when the resignation of Judge R. T. Walters, city recorder and police judge, was accepted, and M. R. Bowen of Long Beach was chosen as city engineer. Judge Walters' resignation is to become effective May 1. A number of candidates are mentioned for the office, among them a woman, Mrs. Lillian Sherwood. Mr. Bowman is to supersede Sidney S. Brooks, who went into office about a year ago as the new city council's appointee.

SAN BERNARDINO — Eighteen candidates for municipal offices at the April 13 election filed nominating petitions before the final hour for entry into the campaign. Every office on the ballot is contested, forecasting a lively campaign. Mayor Grant Holcomb, elected by the city council six weeks ago to succeed S. McNabb, will be opposed by Attorney Fred A. Wilson, J. W. Catie, twice mayor and famous as the "wash-tub" executive because he once admitted doing his wife's washing, will be a candidate for the city council.

OXNARD — With the completion of the state highway from Oxnard to Santa Monica rapidly nearing completion, plans for starting the road to Oxnard city limits are going forward. The California state highway commission has plans for the construction of the highway on a straight line from Ocean View road to Oxnard. This will do away with a right-angle corner at Oxnard boulevard. The proposed cut-off, as the angling piece of road has been termed, will run through the ranches of a number of farmers, who have raised emphatic objections, and who have signed a petition against such a road. However, the commission is desirous of obtaining the right of way and is willing to pay for it.

LONG BEACH — Approximately $1,000,000 will be expended on street paving within the limits of Long Beach if a plan launched here is carried through by the city council. A committee of seven citizens, headed by Councilman Thomas, has been named to draw up recommendations to the city council for a bond issue to be submitted to the voters within the next twenty days and to call for the appropriation of $1,000,000 for street improvements. A large portion under the plan, will be devoted to main boulevards into the city.

TREES PLENTIFUL IN VIENNA. VIENNA, March 27.—In the streets of Vienna there are trees enough to make a small forest if they were placed together on one spot of land. CROWDED HOUSE SEES ATHLETES AT 'Y' CIRCUS

Santa Ana "Y" leaders more than fulfilled pre-performance promises last night when they presented to an overflowing house of kiddies and grownups the opening performance of the first indoor circus staged by the Y. M. C. A. in this city.

The circus spirit reigned supreme. Those who bought tickets were well repaid. None grumbled nor felt dissatisfied. Circuses are scarce and in many respects the one put on last night compared favorably with professional productions.

The big gymnasium hall, gaily decorated for the occasion with flags and building, resembled an old-fashioned circus tent with rings and stages. The ceiling of the huge structure was a maze of ropes, cables and aerial rigging. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Santa Ana high school band.

Specialties Are Pleasing. There were so many contributing to the performance—most of them Santa Ana people—that it is meriting special mention and praise. However, it is the specialties that add spice to the program. There are so many of these that the spectator is fascinated and at times bewildered by the excellent talent among home people.

The program, replete with daring stunts and side-splitting fun, opened with the customary grand march led by R. R. Russick, physical director, in charge of the program. One of the outstanding characters of the show was Charles H. Marcher, ringmaster, including a plug hat of ancient vintage and a Prince Albert, contributed to the general fun.

Aid in Program. Warren Slater, physical director of the Pasadena Y. M. C. A., fulfilled predictions that he would be one of the funny men of the program, and until his identity was known, many thought that he was from a professional arena. Others contributing to the success of the evening were W. L. Bower, of Fullerton, Ernest E. Coffin and J. W. Goodman of Los Angeles.

Generous applause greeted the Bell Ringers, an artistic achievement with dumbbells, by representatives of the men's and boys' gymnasium classes.

Sharing honors with the Bell Ringers were the Jumping Jacks, an eccentric drill number put on by members of the girls' classes.

Spectacular Number. Members of the men's senior class furnished a spectacular number, listed on the program as "Crossing the Bar," a daring display of aerial agility on the high bar, which brought rounds of applause.

Adding much zest and vigor to the program was a number put on by the comrades and their educated elephant, "Jumbo," a recent gift from the Y. M. C. A. in Singapore.

There was something going on every minute in the gymnasium, while Warren Slater, resembling "Nervy Nat" and his staff of entertainers, were on the floor. The burlesque brought a continuous round of laughs from start to finish.

Honors of the evening went to the members of the ladies' classes, who, appearing in "Alphabetical Antics," repeated evolution after evolution of their drill as they moved about on the floor.

They also presented a dance fantasy, called Association Blues, a decided novelty and one which proved popular with the big audience.

Appreciative Audience. There were many other entertainers and performers whose names were not included in the program. The audience was appreciative and each act was greeted with rounds of applause.

In addition to the program put on last night, several new numbers, including a "hokum skit," will be added to tonight's performance, it was announced.

THREATEN TEACHER. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 27.—Enraged because she alleged that one of her little girls had been severely punished with a strap by Mrs. Mae Foley, a teacher in the Pynchon Street school, Mrs. Marie Stabalo appeared at the school brandishing a butcher knife and muttering threats. The teacher locked the classroom door and called the police.

CAIRO MODERN BABEL. CAIRO, March 27.—This city, a modern Babel, is to have automatic telephones. So many languages are spoken here that it is almost impossible to obtain operators who can understand everybody.

Lemon Juice
Whitens Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier. Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also a freckle sunburn and tan bleach. Must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

FRATERNAL NEWS

Knights of Pythias

One hundred and fifty Knights of Pythias from the seven lodges of this district were present at the session of Santa Ana lodge, in the K. P. hall, Wednesday night. The Page rank was conferred on Chief of Police Claude Rogers and Attorney Morris Cain.

Gilbert P. Campbell was elected keeper of records and seal, succeeding J. W. Anderson, resigned. J. D. Sanborn was elected trustee to fill out the term of Campbell.

Announcement was made by Edward W. Cochems, chancellor commander, that the property at 1310 West Fourth street, consisting of a large lot and a five-room house, has been purchased as the site for the proposed Knights of Pythias hall. Officers of the Knights of Pythias Building association are president, N. E. Mayhill; vice president, Paul G. Reid; secretary and treasurer, Edward W. Cochems; directors, Frank Witmer and J. D. Sanborn.

A program of entertainment was presented after the degree ceremony. Carl A. Stoerkel, formerly a vaudeville headliner, gave whistling solos. The Rev. F. P. Porter gave a sleight-of-hand performance. George Miller entertained with character impersonations. Walter Morrow gave guitar selections. The meeting Wednesday was one of the most successful ever held by the Knights of Pythias. Cochems declared today.

The district convention of Domain No. 30 will be held in the Anaheim K. P. hall April 3. Santa Ana lodge will confer the Esquire rank next Wednesday.

W. R. C.

High officers of the Woman's Relief corps, including Mrs. Grace Willard, national president; Kate Reed Humphreys, national secretary; Winifred McLaughlin, department treasurer; Emma Alexander, past department treasurer; and Ida Herendeen, past department secretary, were present at the session of federation No. 1, W. R. C., at Fullerton, March 23. A talk on the Americanization work being done among the Mexicans of Fullerton, Brea, Placentia and Anaheim was given by Miss McKay, director of the work. The visiting officers gave short

Calumpit Camp

A delegation of members of Calumpit camp No. 26, and Calumpit auxiliary No. 39, Spanish War veterans, visited Lieutenant Bedwell camp No. 28, Riverside, March 26. Among those composing this delegation were: Department Inspector Charles E. Dixon, Commander Walter W. Tantiinger and Mrs. Tantiinger, District Inspector Robert E. Lee and Mrs. Lee, Past Commander Clinton Imes, Past Commander Charles E. Waffle and Mrs. Waffle, Officer of the Day Frank P. Rowe, Officer of the Guard William Kelsey and Mrs. Kelsey, Quartermaster John Markwalder and Mrs. Markwalder, Chaplain Forrest Gay and Mrs. Gay, Comrade William Ellison and Mrs. Ellison, and Comrade C. R. McClure.

It was inspection night for Lieutenant Bedwell camp and District Inspector Robert E. Lee performed the inspection work under the supervision of the department inspector. There were delegations present from San Bernardino, Pomona, Redlands and Covina and Santa Ana.

There was an entertainment and an excellent repast. The outstanding feature of the evening was the exhibition of an American flag of 13 stars that was made and used in 1776. This flag was used by a fleet of seven vessels, containing French, Spanish and Basque colonists, that sailed from Boston harbor, in 1775, and landed on the beach between Newport and Balboa.

These colonists afterward went to Oregon, but after about one year, they returned to this vicinity and located permanently and the flag became the prized possession of an old lady, one of the descendants of those colonists, who lived for years in Santa Ana. In her declining years, she presented the flag to a Santa Ana merchant, who, when he saw the American flag etiquette cards, compiled by Calumpit camp, remembered the flag that had been laid carefully away for a quarter of a century, and loaned it to Major Lee, the camp's patriotic instructor. It is said that as soon as the complete history of this particular flag can be secured, it will be placed in some museum.

Details of their recent trip to the Orient were given by Dr. Peryl Magill and Miss Julia Magill at the Daughters of Veterans' social March 20, at the home of Mrs. Eva Bell.

Mrs. Bell was assisted in entertaining by Lulu Davis, Emma Chapman, Bertha Bell and Lucy Thompson. The Bell home was beautifully decorated. Games were played during the afternoon. Refreshments were served.

Neighbors of Woodcraft

Members of the Thimble club Neighbors of Woodcraft, were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. A. A. Schlasmann, 1201 West Fifth street, March 20. Mrs. Schlasmann had arranged a musical in honor of St. Patrick's day, and her home was decorated in green and white.

After an Irish reading by Mrs. E. G. Erickson, a trio, consisting of Mrs. C. N. Grace, Mrs. E. G. Warner and Mrs. L. U. Johnson, sang, "Sweet Elleen Aithne," sung by Mrs. Grace was well received as were Mrs. Johnson's rendition of "A Little Bit of Heaven," and the old melody, "Mother MacBree." A violin solo, "Meditation," by Miss Mary Lake, concluded the program.

During the refreshment hour, puns and Irish witticisms were passed and enjoyed by the guests and members present. COURT ALLOWS STOCKHOLDERS TO ASSEMBLE

RICHMOND, Va., March 27.—Stockholders of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad will be permitted to hold their meeting here Monday, Judge William A. Moncure, in chancery court, has ruled, denying an injunction to prevent the meeting.

Judge Moncure gave his consent to the meeting, however, on condition that no attempt will be made to execute the proposed lease of the road to the Van Sweringen combination, if approved by the meeting, until he has had time to consider questions involving the validity of the lease.

The decision was a partial victory for both sides in the controversy, the majority group gaining the court's consent to hold the meeting and vote to merge with the Nickel Plate, while the minority group is assured of a judicial review of its contentions that the road is being "stolen" before the lease can be executed.

Attorneys representing the road assured Moncure that they agreed to the conditions.

The ruling of the court was upon an application of minority stockholders of the C. & O. headed by Samuel C. Dobbs, to prevent a meeting March 31, in Richmond, at which the consolidation of the C. & O. with the Van Sweringen lines is scheduled to be ratified.

Dobbs and those associated with him maintained that a proper price is not being paid for the road. The Van Sweringens first acquired a large block of C. & O. stock two years ago. They now claim enough voting stock to put the consolidation through.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, March 27.—One event of inauguration day festivities, neglected by reporters and correspondents at the time because of the pressure of important news happenings, must not go unchronicled.

To many who saw it, it will be remembered as the high light of the whole inaugural shindig.

After the senate had crowded itself into seats on the right side of the chamber and the members of the house had filled to overflowing the limited space on the opposite side of the aisle, preparatory to the swearing in of the vice president, the ambassadors and ministers of foreign governments were announced.

While the multitude packing the galleries craned its necks, the diplomatic corps, beribboned, be-spangled, loaded down with gold lace and dignity, filed solemnly down the center aisle to the seats reserved for them near the front.

It was an impressive procession. All the might and majesty of the world's great nations was there represented.

Then, as the last of the diplomats entered the chamber, toddling along behind, bringing up the procession, came a lost sheep from the congressional flock.

It was evident to all beholders that the tardy representative was no diplomat. If he had been, he would have been elsewhere.

For it was plain to be seen that he had been partaking of stimulants no longer legal. His foot-steps were wavering and uncertain.

He moved with such an excess of caution that his very dignity became undignified.

Colleagues, seeing and sensing his condition, quickly switched him from the main line onto a sidetrack, and he was lost to sight in the crowd.

To a friend, who later protested to him that despite the fact that he was that day retiring from congress he should not have tried to drown his sorrows and make a show of himself, the ex-member replied:

"It's all right. I came in under diplomatic immunity. Hic!"

That army influence, either consciously or unconsciously, does exert a censorship on matters affecting the army air service seems evident from an inspection of the last issue of the "Air Service News," a departmental publication issued in mimeograph form for men in the service.

For while purporting to give the latest and most important news concerning matters of aviation in the army, there was not one word about the fight Gen. Billy Mitchell has been making for an enlarged air service.

Yet the very day after the publication was issued, Mitchell was demoted to a colonelcy, effective April 27, and Col. Jim Fehet promoted to his post of assistant chief of the air service.

Count Objects to Farewell Parade

NEW YORK, March 27.—Count Michael Karolyi, former President of Hungary, has requested his friends to not stage a farewell parade when he and his wife leave for Canada, April 5th.

This announcement was made by his attorney, Morris L. Ernst, who said:

"The count was afraid that the state department might hold him responsible for political activity if his followers paraded."

EARL IS IMPROVED LONDON, March 27.—The condition of the Earl of Ypres (Field Marshal French) was reported "slightly improved" today. The earl underwent a serious operation Thursday.

Don't Build That New Home without Installing a Wayne

Rapid-Rate Water Softener

It is the Missing Link in a Modern Home

When you buy a Wayne Rapid Water Softener you are taking out one of the best insurance policies you ever took out in your life, and it pays for itself in savings every day from the minute it is installed. It makes HARD WATER SOFT WITHOUT ADDING ANY CHEMICALS to the water. It merely takes the hardness out by purely natural process. When people like the California Edison, Southern Pacific R. R., Standard Oil Co., and all the largest hospitals, hotels and apartments in the United States are using the Wayne Rapid Water Softener, there certainly must be a reason and what it does for them it will do for you. You may not know it, but all of the Puritas Water you are buying is passed through a Wayne Water Softener before it is distilled, because it takes out all the hardness and impurities such as animal and vegetable matter. There is no more lime in your tea kettle. Your water heater after you install a Water Softener. It cuts your soap bill at least 50%; it cuts your fuel bill 10 to 25%, and your clothes last three times as long when washed in soft water. Your hands do not get rough and sore and your work is done better, cleaner, in about half the time. Your bath room is as inviting as your parlor because all the fixtures are so nice and white and clean. Lots of folks think the high water mark left in the bath tub is dirt off their bodies, water. There are no more lines in your tub or wash bowl. No more better for cooking and drinking. It is very easily installed and you where it enters the home and you have 100% pure soft water in the abundance at city pressure in laundry, bath room and kitchen. When you once use soft water you will never use hard water again.

Here are the names of a few of our recent installations: R. B. Newcom, F. Wieseeman, P. A. Robinson, A. J. Crook-shank, Ray Lambert, Lewis Moulton, H. F. Trueblood and J. Brooks. Ask them what they think of the Wayne Softener. We have one installed at our office in the Grand Central Market. Come in and look it over.

Even Homes without Electricity can have Gyrafoam Service

The Maytag Multi-Motor is the only washer operated by its own built-in gasoline engine.

THE powerful, Sturdy Multi-Motor built right in as a part of the washer itself is every bit as efficient as an electric motor. Handles the biggest wash with perfect ease. There is no hand-cranking—starts with a flip of the foot lever. The washer can be moved about as easily as an electric—put it on the porch, under a shade tree, in the basement or anywhere you choose.

Driven by the famous Maytag Multi-Motor*

Surely every woman will welcome this news. For the Maytag Gyrafoam Washer is the fastest, most thorough, most convenient washer ever known.

Twice as fast as other washers—and many, many times faster than hand washing. In 3 to 7 minutes it washes a tub of clothes—in an hour 50 lbs., or more.

And it washes all wearing apparel so thoroughly clean that no hand-rubbing is necessary—even on wristbands, cuffs or collars.

You will be amazed at the way it cleans heavy outer clothes, denims and greasy, grimy overalls.

The Maytag is the very last word in wash-day helpfulness. And the famous Maytag Multi-motor* makes it available to homes without electricity.

Wash with the Maytag Multi-Motor! Wash with it right in your own home next wash-day—or sooner. Then it's up to the washer. And—if it doesn't SELL ITSELF, don't keep it.

*The Multi-Motor is the sturdiest, most economical, most dependable, fractional horsepower gasoline motor ever developed.

CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES ASSURE SUCCESS

Santa Ana, March 27, 1925. Editor Register: After having been defeated three times in the United States, and becoming the subject of ridicule because of his abstinence from intoxicating liquors, William Jennings Bryan held up his head and smiled as he answered to the sobriquet "Grape-juice." He smiled because he measured a man's success not by his worldly goods, nor by offices that he had held, nor by the prominence that he had attained, but by the good that he had done. Therefore, because he always relied on God in his hours of trial, he did not consider that he had suffered defeat.

"Christian principles," Mr. Bryan says, "assure success in the highest sense; they restrain in hours of victory and they sustain in hours of disappointment."

After Mr. Bryan had suffered apparent defeat at the hands of those who did not catch his vision, he said: "God is infinite in wisdom, law and power. The solution of all difficulties now facing the world can be found in the Bible. The teaching of Jesus Christ solve all the problems which vex the heart and perplex the mind."

With a constant upward vision no man can suffer defeat. He may lose money occasionally but he does not lose faith; he may lose his race for office but he does not suffer humiliation.

Do not worry over results; put your energy into building causes that will produce results to your liking. Firemen do not fight the smoke; they work on the fire.

The greatest men of the world believe in working on the fire. They are telling the world that material scheming avails nothing. But "He that bath truth, love and principle, to him shall be given; and he that had not these qualities from him shall be taken away even that which he hath."

Many of the leading manufacturers and merchants are not only preaching the Golden Rule but they are practicing it, and by this practice they are proving that to seek first the Kingdom is the only way to have all good things added. So long as there is antagonistic competition there will be struggle and strife. So long as there is personal ambition for financial power, there will be a sacrifice of principle; where there are sacrifices of principle there are disappointments, losses and defeats.

When the Christ principle in man's heart takes precedence over selfish desires, trouble and strife and contention will fade into nothingness. Then no one will destroy, but all will construct; each will work for the good of all; and by this method of purification will be found the solution of all problems.

For realization—my happiness and my good come through my practice of Christian principles. —ADELAIDE KENNERLY.

CHARGE 'DOCTOR' HAS NO LICENSE

HANFORD, Calif., March 27.—"Dr." John Costa, charged by F. R. Mendes with practicing medicine without a license, has been taken in custody by Sheriff William Hime and lodged in the county jail, where he was held in default of $5000 cash bail on order of Edgar Irwin, justice of the peace.

The alleged physician, who is said to have administered to Mendes' brother and caused him to be near death, was found after a 2-day search on a small ranch between Lemoore and Hardwick. In his house were quantities of drugs and herbs. These were seized by officers and evidence was also forwarded to the state board of medical examiners.

Costa was alleged to have been preparing to start up an extensive business here when taken in custody.

Daughter Becomes Niece of Father

LAMAR, Colo., March 27.—Marie Duclie Robinson is her own cousin and her father is her uncle—all because of divorce laws. After Marie's mother and father were separated by the law, they married Mark and Helen Yazel, brother and sister, respectively. Mrs. Yazel's former husband became her brother-in-law.

COLLAR ANNIVERSARY TROY, N. Y., March 27.—This year marks the 100th anniversary of the detachable collar. In 1825, Hannah Lord Montagu, the wife of a blacksmith, noticed that shirts stayed clean longer than the collars sewed on them. She used a pair of scissors to make the first detachable collar.

BEARS BERRIES, NUTS FAIRFAX, Mo., March 27.—On J. E. Walkup's farm near here is a tree that bears both berries and nuts. About 30 inches from the ground, on one side produce walnuts while mulberries are found on those on the other side.

11 KILLED BY EXPLOSION BERLIN, March 27.—Eleven men were killed when the oil tanker Saturn exploded in Hamburg harbor. The bodies were buried over the houseposts and fell in a courtyard.

WILL SPLIT UP LANDS TO MEET ASSIGNMENTS

SAN LUIS OBISPO, March 27.—The great Atascadero development project, which E. G. Lewis of St. Louis, founded in 1913, on $2000 borrowed money, will be parcelled out through assigned claims to holders of $5,000,000 in unsecured notes against the promoter.

Lewis floated the project on a longer shooting than Wallingford ever dreamed of and met "the toughest luck since Waterloo," according to his friends.

In his examination here by W. Preston Butcher, Jr., referee in bankruptcy, Lewis said he had backed all over the nation who had helped him to the extent of millions and that eventually they would get back every penny.

The Associated States corporation has offered to take over all claims against Lewis and issue real estate receipts which, with a small percentage of the purchase price, will allow credits to make full collection in land.

Lewis recited what he called a "black cat romance," telling how he had developed the colony on a solid foundation of voluntary credit, only to have the war force him into other ventures such as mining and oil, to save the project.

"Misfortune dogged me at every turn," he said, adding that he had gone into voluntary bankruptcy to save his creditors, although his assets, real and potential, far exceeded his liabilities.

Development of the Palos Verdes project in Los Angeles county was started, Lewis said, with Frank Vanderlip, New York financier, one of those who asked him to "build a city."

The city was planned, but misfortune stalked him again, said Lewis, for "you know every town is run by a bunch of big dogs, and they only growl a bit when a strange dog comes along; but if that strange dog picks up a toothsome bone, the pack is on him."

Palos Verdes became involved in litigation, assets were tied up and finally Lewis said he had to go into bankruptcy for the sake of his creditors, many of whom had loaned him large sums without security.

Riding Hobby Horse Serious With Coolidge

NEW YORK, March 27.—At least one person outside his family has watched President Coolidge go through his daily dozen on the White House hobby horse.

Mrs. Frank W. Stearns, of Boston, wife of the president's closest friend, divulged this secret just before sailing on the steamer Duillo for Genoa with her husband.

"I inadvertently wandered into the room where the president was exercising one day," said Mrs. Stearns, "and had an opportunity to watch him several minutes before he was aware of my presence. Mr. Coolidge, I find, takes his exercise seriously, like everything else."

MUST LOOK TO MEXICANS FOR LABOR SUPPLY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., March 27.—The Pacific coast must look to Mexico for its farm labor in the future, according to the present trend of alien labor, revealed in the report of the "race relations survey," completed after 18 months of investigation.

More than 50 scientists and educators participated in making the survey. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, headed the research committee.

High light of the findings were as follows:

Probable effect of alien land laws, now effective in California and Washington, will be to urbanize a large part of the Japanese population. Large acreages will pass into the hands of second generation orientals, who will become capitalists.

The Chinese are withdrawing from competitive labor and business to enter non-competitive, parasitic lines and the Japanese generally will follow the trend.

With the migration of Chinese and Japanese to cities, Mexicans are replacing orientals as a source of labor.

The Chinese population on the Pacific coast is decreasing, the Japanese increasing, but at a lesser rate since 1890.

SAYS NEVADA WILL SEEK PACT ON DAM

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—Nevada will seek an agreement with both California and Arizona so the west will present a united front in asking for federal funds for the Colorado River dam project, according to Senator Key Pittman, Nevada, here on a visit.

Senator Pittman said he would ask Governor Hunt of Arizona and Governor Richardson of California to attend a meeting with Gov. Charles Hoover and Weeks and the senator in Washington, D. C., on the Colorado river project.

Congressmen of other states are seizing on the lack of harmony between the western states as a reason for not approving a dam appropriation, Senator Pittman said.

Just Can't Resist Saxophone Thefts

OAKLAND, Calif., March 27.—Lyle Parr, 26, was under alienists' care, following his plea that he be sent to prison to break him of the saxophone stealing habit.

"I can't resist saxophones," Judge Parr said the court. "Every time I hear one I want to steal it."

Judge Tyrrell said if Parr is found mentally responsible he will be sent to jail for 90 days, where he can practice on a harmonica.

JURY TRIAL IS DEMANDED IN RUM CASE

Seal Beach Restaurant Man To Appear Next Tuesday on Liquor Charge

SEAL BEACH, March 27.—C. C. Reed, proprietor of the Seal Inn Restaurant, arrested Saturday night, together with H. F. Baleau, on a charge of possession and transportation of intoxicating liquor, has demanded a jury trial. The cases will be heard Tuesday, March 31.

This arrest is the fifth link in a chain of arrests made by Marshal J. C. Arnold and assistants within the last four months calculated to rid Seal Beach of the liquor traffic.

Within that time the E. W. Jones filling station and lunch room on Central and Sixth has been closed and the property sold.

The Jewel Cafe has been closed and is now vacant.

Carl Jones, operating at the Jonesart Lunch Room on Main and Ocean, has left Seal Beach and the place is under new management.

Captain's Inn is open on probation until April 7 with the understanding that if liquor is sold, and the place not properly conducted the license will be revoked by the city council.

LAGUNA PARTY LEAVES FOR EAST

LAGUNA BEACH, MARCH 27.—A motor party left Laguna Beach for a two months trip to the eastern states. The travelers are Mrs. Grace Machet, Mrs. Mary Cunningham and little daughter, Mary, and Mrs. Mary Bell Goff Bennett, of Arch Beach. The party will make a stop at Yuma, Ariz., first; then they will remain in Albuquerque, N. M., for a few days; then on to Old Santa Fe, "the town of a thousand mysteries" and then to Trinidad, Colo., where they will stop to get a first hand view of the snow covered peaks of the mountain state. Another stop off place, Dodge City, Iowa.

The journey may continue on to New York if things go well. The prime cause of the trip is a business deal in Blackwell, Okla., but the business end of the jaunt is but one of the reasons as the entire party is anxious for a good time in the open and a chance to breathe without a jazz band interfering.

TEACHERS OBJECT TO NEW LAW TO COMPEL GIVING OF AGES

FULLERTON, March 27.—"Less government in education and more education in government!" That mutinous soprano battle cry, half in sarcasm and half in alarm is mingled with another vehement utterance as a greeting to the new "open age" law enacted by the state assembly, with Assemblyman S. C. Hartman, of this city, as sponsor. The other remark most frequently heard is:

"Isn't that just like a man? Why, the idea!"

The remarks are coming from the feminine members of California's teaching profession. The "open age" law is a measure requiring them to tell their age and date of birth to the state department of education.

Fireworks! Naturally. Having guarded their secret all these years, having a perfect right to keep such matters their own affair, does Mr. Hartman or any other man—mere man—even a veteran educator like Mr. Hartman, who should know better, believe for a moment that the state department of education is going to be permitted such familiarities. If so, the aforesaid members of the mere sex are badly mistaken.

The bill as introduced by Hartman and passed by the assembly provides that all teachers subject to payment of retirement salaries must bare—that is the only word that describes the ordeal—their age, birth date and teaching experience. Its enactment brought a prompt and pronounced reaction from the faculty women. Mr. Hartman, as a one time teacher himself, was viewed with reproach. He is perhaps beginning to feel like a man who has stabbed somebody in the back. Of course those who make teaching a life work expect some day to retire, and, equally of course, hope to share in the rewards of a long and honorable service among which a pension is admittedly prominent. But who knows how many may harbor a secret ambition to choose a certain other form of retirement. Apparently a good many want to retain the right to choose either method.

But now, there's that hateful "open age" bill and its two-pronged dilemma. If they tell their age, one door of retirement is possibly closed to them. If they refuse to tell it the other door is certainly shut in their face. Mr. Hartman and his fellow legislators are certainly brutes.

VETERAN OF CRIMEAN WAR STILL LIVING

Anaheim Man, 88 Years Old, Recalls Balaklava and Heights of Alma

ANAHEIM, MARCH 27.—It is yet too soon to sound a collective "taps" on the veterans of the Crimean war, as one magazine did recently.

There is one, at least, of the heroes left. He is Alexander N. Henry, a Scotchman living here in a German community. Anaheim is called the Mother Colony of Southern California, because it was one of the Southland's very earliest settlements. And Alexander N. Henry was one of the very earliest settlers, coming here in 1865. But before that he had spent years at sea, and before that he was in the Crimean war.

He is now 88 years of age and still active enough to feel it keenly when a rare illness kept him from voting at a recent city election.

Was in Many Battles. The magazine that said all the survivors of the Crimean war have passed on, overlooked Alexander Henry. He was very much in that war and can tell many stirring stories of the fighting at Balaklava, Sebastopol, Inkerman and the heights of Alma. He was in all those battles and has a medal and a bar for each.

Twice he was wounded and was nursed by Florence Nightingale, the "angel of mercy," now a famous figure of history and the fore-runner of the Red Cross.

Born in Edinburgh, Scotland, February 15, 1837, Alexander Henry joined the British navy at the outbreak of the Crimean war in 1852. He was on the Tarrus, a gunboat, and served on both land and sea throughout the war.

After the war he remained in merchant service, under his half brother, Captain Lawrence Samuel Henry. In 1864, Captain Henry was himself a noted seaman. As owner and captain for 40 years he had lost a man nor ship, the record goes. He passed on some years since at the ripe age of 89, showing the Henry blood to carry a pronounced strain of longevity.

Came to Anaheim in 1868. Alexander Henry, the Crimean veteran, sailed to all ports of the world before giving up the sea. He came to Anaheim October 23, 1868, and settled down to the peaceful existence of the land lubber. But he is still within a dozen miles of the seashore—close enough to get an occasional breath of the salt breeze.

Though less stirring than his earlier career, the old sailor did not find life ashore as easy as might be, for some years. Like most of the pioneers, he encountered ups and downs, but pluckily stuck to his guns, and finally rode the wave of prosperity into a peaceful harbor.

All of the Crimean veterans are gone, they say, but Henry, and virtually all of the Mother Colonists have likewise passed on. But Alexander Henry is still far from ready, apparently, for the soundings of the taps, the old war dog of the sea, stays on, rubbing elbows with "these young fellows" of the G. A. R.

L. A. MUSICIANS PLAY AT TUSTIN

TUSTIN, March 27.—Prominent on the program at the high school assembly yesterday were songs by the Immanuel Male Quartet and Saxophone Club of Los Angeles. The quartet, well known throughout Southern California, recently returned from a tour of the United States. The quartet played in Washington President Coolidge, J. J. Kleinsasser, J. A. Kearnes, Arthur L. Reimer, and Peter D. Ritzer were the members of the musical organization. Southern negro melodies, old time songs, and other pieces as well as several readings were included on the program.

An oyster supper featured the monthly meeting of the teachers of the Presbyterian Sunday school, Wednesday evening at the church. The home department of the organization will be reorganized, it was decided at a short business session. About 20 people were present. Mr. and Mrs. George Lange and P. H. Ebel were in charge of the preparations for the supper.

Mrs. W. S. McDougall was the hostess Wednesday afternoon to the members of the Junior Girls class of the Sunday school. Sewing and story telling passed away a pleasant hour. Refreshments were served by Miss Charlotte Vance and Miss Beth Collar. Games were also enjoyed. Those present were Misses Ruth Weiss, Beth Collar, Charlotte Vance, Stella Reid, Mable Landis, Helen Fickas, Dorothy Pritchard, Evelyn Stafford, Bonnie Kiser, and the hostess, Mrs. McDougall.

NEW INDUSTRY IS TO LOCATE AT PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, MARCH 27.—The Placentia Chamber of Commerce, according to Charles E. Lee, secretary, assisted by the Orange county advertising and industrial department, under the management of J. Frederick Ahlborn, has landed another industry for Orange county.

The new plant is backed by middle west and New York people and comes to Placentia amply and solidly financed. There will be no stock selling or bonus in land or buildings asked.

The company has orders on hand from its eastern connection for about 60,000 gallons of pure orange juice and 30,000 gallons of pure lemon juice. The company will not manufacture any patented or synthetic drinks, but ship the pure juices east as well as orange juice concentrates.

P. Gregory Beylik is president of the new concern which has taken a five year lease on the Marzo Cannery plant, which is now idle at Placentia. The building will be remodeled and a pre-cooling plant installed. The plant will give immediate employment to at least 20 persons, and pay into the pockets of orange and lemon growers of the Placentia district about $1500 per month for cull oranges and lemons which have up to date been practically an economic loss to the growers.

Two cars of machinery are on the way from the east. According to Secretary Lee, the new firm is much interested in the development of Newport Bay as the company will ship in at least two cars a week of oak casks from the east and will ship out about 180 barrels per week of juices to eastern connection by water, all of which will go via San Pedro until Orange county has a Harbor of its own.

This is the first industry the Placentia Chamber of Commerce has brought to the community this year, the organization having laid down an iron clad rule. To offer no bonuses, no free land or sites, and to approve no stock selling schemes.

Girl Students Prepare Meal for School Trustees

FULLERTON, March 27.—Members of the board of directors of the local Chamber of Commerce and Grammar School trustees were guests of honor at a four course luncheon served yesterday noon in the Wilcox grammar school dining room by girls of the eighth grade. Their domestic science instructors, Miss Bott and Miss Digins supervised the preparation of the dinner which was served very tastefully and received the enthusiastic commendation of their guests.

The following students in the "A" division served the repast: Marjorie Walker, Marion Marsden, Pauline Sweet, Doris Redfern, Hazel Clark, Eleanor Otto, Margaret Russell and Mary Calvert. While the dishes were being cleared away the Chamber of Commerce representatives held a brief business session discussing the proposed increase in the gasoline tax and passing a resolution opposing the measure.

HITS FLORIDA AFTER RETURN TO CALIFORNIA

Hotels Serve Lettuce, Meat, Oranges, Lemons From Golden State Claim

ANAHEIM, March 27.—Praises of Florida as heard from the real estate agents, hotel keepers and others who would detract from California's fair name in boasting that of the southern state is, after all, "nothing but a joke," according to a resident of our own city, E. J. Hartung, who is now sojourning in Florida, who expresses his opinions as far as his "conflict of interest" in a letter to Postmaster J. H. Whitaker, from Miami, in which he requests that his mail be forwarded to Washington, D. C., his next stop.

The hotels here in Florida serve California meat, oranges, lemons, lettuce, celery and nearly everything else in the market in the line of produce is from "California," writes Hartung.

"There are some good orange groves around Orlando and Lakeland, but I would not trade one foot of Orange county soil for the whole state of Florida, and I have been over it from north to south, and east to west."

"California lettuce here sells for 30 cents a head, meat 65 cents a pound, milk 35 cents a quart, bread 19 cents a loaf. It is very hot with few shade trees outside the cocoanut palm trees."

"Unlike the smooth pavements of California, Florida has poor roads, and in 95 per cent of the state are found swamps in which snakes, chiggers and alligators abound. Tourists here are highly disappointed in the country since so many come here in preference to California, believing the stories circulated by the real estate sharks and hotel keepers. California, in spite of her faults, is the only place on earth after all."

Who's Who—and What's What—in the World of Milk

Excelsior Milk is produced in Orange County, within a radius of six miles of our plant.

All dairies supplying us are under combined inspection of local, county and state inspectors.

500 cows are owned by members of our company.

Our trucks deliver the milk to our plant immediately after milking, twice each day.

Upon arrival of milk at plant samples are taken and tested for butterfat and bacteria in our own well equipped laboratory.

The milk is pasteurized by heating to 142°F. and holding 30 minutes as recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

All bottles and equipment are washed and sterilized immediately before filling.

The milk is delivered in sanitary wagons and trucks, packed in ice and protected from sun and dust.

No epidemics have ever been traced to properly pasteurized milk.

Pasteurization insures protection and does not effect food value of milk. The collection, care and distribution of milk is a necessary public service, entailing constant vigilance, and a desire to contribute toward the health of the community.

IT'S OUR SPRINGTIME

In Orange county we have no winter, for the months that easterners know as winter months are as springtime to them. So, our spring begins in December and lasts around to July, and our fall begins in July and ends in November or December. We have no extreme heat to mark a summer and no extreme cold to mark a forbidding winter.

But just now we are in the midst of our own California springtime. Foothills and canyons are green with grass. Here and there are golden poppies. While most of our native trees and shrubs are evergreen, those that shed their leaves in late fall are taking on a new verdure. The sycamores, in new array, are inviting lovers of the out-of-doors to come to them.

Several weeks ago, the brown-breasted robins appeared in small flocks, and were with us for a time. They have gone on to carry the message of California's springtime to lands that have been covered with snow. Once in awhile, too, flocks of bluebirds have been seen in the foothills, awakening in the hearts of many fond recollections of childhood days.

All Nature is enjoying the eternal game of life, and none can enjoy the eternal game more than we in our sunshine and beneath our blue skies, with a warm, shimmering sea and green hills close at hand.

ELECTION IN GERMANY

Germany is to have a presidential election on March 29, and the Berlin Zeitung announces that the campaign, which has just started, is to be "on the American model." At least one candidate, Dr. Hellpach, the Democratic nominee, is using the radio, movies, marching clubs and other devices familiar in this country.

Another Berlin newspaper, however, deprecates any such tendency, denouncing American campaign methods as "circus advertising schemes," and insisting for the Nationalist Party at least, on "no American scam, no humbug, no circus—merely a man."

The Anzeiger may set its fears at rest, as far as imitating American methods is concerned. Circus campaigns have already gone out of style in the United States. The last presidential campaign was quiet and formal enough even for conservative Germany.

We may venture, however, to recommend to the Germans one feature of our election system that is far superior to their own. That is the comparative simplicity of American campaigns. There are nearly a dozen presidential candidates in Germany, representing as many parties. And most of them really count. So split up is the national electorate that there is little prospect of a large enough vote for any candidate to secure an election on March 29. So there will probably be another election on April 26, and there may be others after that. Better one two-party campaign system than a free-for-all or a relay race.

FIERY SLUMBER

Here is a news story passed on for the benefit of those who enjoy shuddering.

Horace Harris, a middle-aged boiler inspector of Syracuse, N. Y., seeking shelter in the freight yard at two o'clock on a bitterly cold morning, crawled inside the firebox of a laid-up locomotive. It was cosy there, and he fell asleep. An hour later a fireman climbed aboard and proceeded to fire up. He placed oil-soaked waste and kindling wood in the firebox, and applied a torch. Harris awoke to find himself imprisoned by a wall of fire.

It was a situation worthy of Edgar Allan Poe. The prisoner did not die of fright, but he may die of the burns he received as he scrambled through those flames over six feet of blazing firewood, and emerged, a mass of flames himself, to the amazement of the fireman.

Perhaps the moral should be added: Never go to sleep in a locomotive firebox.

TO AVOID COLDS

Doctors in a baby hospital find that "cold and respiratory infections" are the leading diseases among babies. Also that "the basic causes of these ailments are frequently found to be too heavy clothing, lack of sunlight and fresh air."

This is something that every mother ought to know. In fact, every adult should know it, for his own benefit if not for the children's.

There persists a strange notion that colds can be avoided by "bundling up" and keeping the house or office hot and avoiding fresh air when it happens to be cold—especially "night air." These are found to be nothing more than medieval superstitions.

Too much clothing makes the body weaker and less resistant to disease. Too high a temperature indoors, making the air hot and dry, is bad for the nose, throat and lungs. The surest way to avoid colds is to expose oneself as much as possible to fresh air, whatever the temperature.

A STABLE DOLLAR

Dr. Irving Fisher, professor of economics at Yale, keeps everlastingly at his drive for a "stable dollar." He finds it necessary to clear away many misconceptions. Answering a railroad executive who criticizes him as trying to upset the dollar, and who says he wants the dollar unchanged so that "if he puts it into the savings bank he can get back a dollar of the same intrinsic value," Prof. Fisher insists that this is precisely the test that the present dollar does not meet. He declares that "between 1896 and 1920 the savings bank depositor and bondholder have lost through the depreciating dollar more than they have gained in interest."

He quotes Barron's Weekly to the effect that $10,000 invested 20 years ago has shrunk to $4,000, because $10,000 will only buy 40 per cent as much of the necessities of life as it would have bought twenty years ago. Another authority says the fluctuating dollar "has done $40,000,000,000 worth of social injustice."

The current index figure of the purchasing power of the dollar now, as compared with its pre-war value, is about 62. That is, since 1913 the 100 cent dollar has shrunk practically to 62 cents.

Prof. Fisher wants to devise a dollar which will always have the same purchasing power, so that a given wage or salary or fixed income from investment will continue to mean the same living standard, the same amount of necessities and comforts of life. There is a growing tendency to agree with Prof. Fisher about the principle of the thing, whatever may be thought of the particular remedy he proposes—varying the amount of gold in the dollar from time to time to keep its purchasing power steady. Sooner or later some practicable scheme will be worked out for this purpose.

As matters stand, the gold dollar standard, while extremely useful and apparently simple, fluctuates so greatly that it is always upsetting values in general and working injustice to one class or another. In recent years, the greatest injustice has been to the creditor classes, and the greatest benefit to debtors, from the payment with cheap money of debts contracted when money was dear.

Business usually looks bad to people whose idea of normality is a hectic boom.

Protecting The Public

Riverside Enterprise.

E. M. Daugherty, corporation commissioner, supports a bill that has been introduced into the assembly, which would amend the corporation securities act, under which the commissioner operates. The amendments are designed to protect investors and the public against fraud and to make the "twilight zone," in which questionable practices are not covered by law, a little smaller than it is at present. It is to be hoped that the measure will carry.

One of the important sections would make the sale by a company of an instrument representing a right to participate or share in oil, minerals, etc., as yet undeveloped, a security. Many such sales have been conducted in the past, when there was no intention of developing the properties and they have not been developed, the people purchasing them being out and injured to the total amount of their investments.

Numerous other sections are amended to stop fraudulent sales of many kinds that have not been within the scope of the old law, especially in the sale of leases of one kind and another.

The conditions that may be imposed in issuance of corporation securities are clarified.

Suspension of brokers' licenses are made more definite. At present the law provides only for as broad as the grounds for revoking a permit.

A section requires advertising matter to be filed with the broker one day previous to the use of the same, thus giving the commissioner an opportunity to point out objectionable features.

Other sections of the bill put teeth in the blue sky law that should have been there from the start and it is hoped will be passed by the legislature in the public interests.

The Value of Forests

Sacramento Union.

In the higher reaches of the Sierra frozen snow lies on the ground from 50 to 100 inches deep. This is winter's precious gift to the bounty of autumn harvest. Gradually the snow will melt and fill reservoirs and descend the streams to the valleys. As late as June one will see some of this winter's snowfall still melting and giving fresh, sweet water to cultivated acres below.

The melted snow flows down slowly. It passes through pine forests, under green thick leaved small growth, under fallen needles and brush. This means a minimum loss of evaporation and an equalized, sustained supply against summer drought.

These forests on the mountain slopes are nature's reservoirs of water for domestic purposes; for creating the illimitable wealth of irrigated lands, for the sustenance of the population of the cities. No artificial storage could be devised to take the place of these forests. Remove them entirely and the valleys would become abandoned deserts. Every harm to the forests is harm to the valleys and the people who live in the valleys.

Protection of the forests against destruction by fire, then, is not a political theory; it is a vital human safeguard. It is a public duty the discharge of which cannot be evaded except at the gravest of public risk. A comprehensive, coordinated program of forest protection gradually is being worked out. Whenever the private citizen or public agency is offered the opportunity to help in this program he should accept it as a high privilege.

Just For Eight Words

Riverside Enterprise.

It would be interesting to know how much economic loss is entailed during a session of the legislature in defeating so-called clinch legislation and in correcting improperly drawn bills. No wonder the members of the legislature are worn out by the end of a session after attending committee meetings with an interminable argument over what appears to be harmless sections of the different matters of legislation. There is one instance that came to light last week relative to a bill to which was attached one of the condemnation features opposed by the Chamber of Commerce on account of the danger that it would establish the right of one great municipality or other subdivision to condemn a public utility already devoted to public use. Attorneys, citizens and many representatives of different affected communities were present, purely for the purpose of eliminating eight words from a bill.

If you are fat or getting fatter, he will be able by food tests and the X-ray, to direct your daily dietary habits, so that real food satisfaction may be obtained without increasing the belt line.

There is no need of getting fat except possibly through disease. If you are not lazy, if your habits conform to the rules of health, if your proper diet and your exercise program is carried out the way you carry out your eating or business program, a normal body with fat, muscle and weight properly distributed will result.

In the desire to be what you are not lies the danger of doing the thing for which you will be sorry. Do not under any consideration be tempted to indulge in any fat fakers's nostrums.

Common foodstuffs may be divided into certain groups which in a measure correspond to the needed chemical elements in the body. There are food chemical companies which advertise their foods supply all these natural elements, so your life processes will be fully complete by using their compounds.

But I do not advise any such treatment. Science has solved the digestive problem in a most conclusive manner. You can avoid being fat by an intelligent understanding of proper food values and how to govern your life and its digestive system.

Maybe This Is Just a Detour

Back To The Land

Long Beach Press-Telegram.

Reclamation is not a theory. It is a fact. The Secretary of the Interior, Hubert Work, is asking the assistance of labor organizations in finding 18,000 settlers who will be needed shortly to till the land which has been brought under the possibility of agricultural use, through federal activities.

People whose memories reach back to the homestead days of the Middle West know that the pioneer of the soil has a task that calls for courage, patience, deprivation of the luxuries of life and most of all, hard work. Yet out of the prairie there have been carved the fortunes and the livelihoods of millions of industrious Americans, native and adopted, who have not been afraid to labor, who have learned the value of thrift, and who have realized that while there have been times when they put little money in the bank, they nevertheless were laying up a competence for their later years.

Out of the desert also fortunes have been carved, but it has been at the cost of isolation and discontent.

In many cities at the present time there is a surplus of labor. How shall such men and their families be transplanted from the crowded city to the lonely claim? How shall they be supported until their first crops mature? How shall they be financed for the building of a home and of other structures necessary to farming operations, and for the purchase of livestock and equipment? These may be looked upon best as individual rather than as paternal questions. California recently has seen the disillusionment of settlers on a state farm colony project with the sequel written in a resolution to the legislature advising against any further ventures into such lines of activity by the commonwealth. Perhaps the national government has had a longer experience, and is better prepared to finance and advise and encourage the men and the women who are willing to give their lives to the making of an empire in a wilderness.

Worth While Verse

AMENDS TO NATURE

I have loved colors, and not flowers;
Their motion, not the swallow's wings;
And wasted more than half my hours
Without the comradeship of things.

How is it, now, that I can see,
With love and wonder and delight,
The children of the hedge and tree,
The little lords of day and night.

How is it that I see the roads,
No longer with usurping eyes,
A twilight meeting-place for loads
A mid-day mart for butterflies?

I feel, in every midge that hums,
Life, fugitive and infinite.
And suddenly the world becomes
A part of me and I of it.

"Will ye be lookin' here?" demanded an Irishman of the waiter. "This lobster do be afther havin' only one claw." "Aha!" ejaculated the waiter, expert through long practice in this sort of thing. "You see, lobsters often fight with each other and occasionally one loses a claw."

"Aha, yerself!" replied Pat, pushing back his plate. "That bein' the case, bring me the winner."—Everybody's Magazine.

NOT GUARANTEED

The customer having coughed loudly to signify his impatience, at last attracted the shop-keeper's attention.

"I want a mousetrap," he said rather sharply. "A good one, and please be quick for I want to catch a train."

The shop-keeper eyed him coldly. "I regret, sir," he said, "that my mousetraps are not guaranteed to catch trains."—Everybody's Magazine.

From the Register Files

MARCH 27, 1911

George Marcy, Chicago capitalist, has begun the development of the skyline drive property which he purchased several months ago from Sherman Stevens and C. E. Utt. A road has been surveyed up the hill and the plan is to make this drive one of the showplaces of Southern California.

The Santa Ana Ebell club endorsed the candidacy of Mrs. E. B. Norman and Mrs. W. M. Smart for the local school board.

Many Santa Ana ministers yesterday verbally attacked "The Girl From Rector's" drama which was shown at the Grand Opera house last week despite efforts of local welfare organizations to have it suppressed.

Plans are being made for the program of entertainment at the California State Christian Endeavor convention which will be held here June 7-11.

The Rev. Paul E. Wright, new pastor of the First Christian church, arrived here. He will deliver his first sermon Sunday.

The Santa Ana All-Stars defeated Huntington Beach, 4 to 1 here yesterday and won the $100 purse offered the winner. Dubois was on the slab for the locals.

Santa Ana high school's baseball team lost its first game of the season at Pomona at Lincoln field Saturday. The score was 7 to 6.

The Santa Ana postoffice has not yet received official notice of the Sunday closing and will continue to remain open on the Sabbath until such notice is received from the government.

Twelve-Year Hunt
For Germicide

By Dr. Edwin E. Closson, Director, Science Service, Washington.

Readers of the item appearing recently in the papers, that a new disinfectant had been discovered fifty times as strong as carbolic acid and no way of knowing what lay behind it—or before it.

In the first place the word "discovered" is misleading. This conveys the impression of a lucky strike, like the diamond that a child in South America picked up as a pretty pebble or the nugget of gold that a sheep herder stumbled upon in Australia. Such is a true discovery, the accidental finding of something already existing.

But this new germicide is not, properly speaking, a discovery. It is an invention, as much an invention as a new radio apparatus. It is not a natural product, suddenly found to be of value, like quinine in Peruvian bark. It is the successful culmination of long, arduous and systematic study of how to construct a molecule that would serve a particular purpose; this particular purpose being to produce a chemical that would distinguish in the dark between the friends and foes of the human body, that would pass through the blood system killing all the disease germs it met and not injuring like them in size, shape and composition that the microscopist has difficulty in telling them apart.

The beginning of this research, the germ of the germicide, is to be found in a paper that Prof. Treat B. Johnson of Yale University published in the "Journal of the American Chemical Society" in 1913. And he has stuck to it ever since until now, a dozen years after, his work is publicly recognized as one of the triumphs of modern medicine. The "Yale Builder" spirit gains victories in other fields than football, although the papers do not make so much fuss over them. The material for the new disinfectant came from that same big black grab-bag from which the chemist has drawn so many useful dyes and drugs, the coal-tar barrel. One of these products, phenol or carbolic acid, is a valuable antiseptic, strong but clumsy, careless in discriminating between the invading microbes and the home guard. It sears the flesh like a hot iron when applied in full strength.

A near relative to phenol is resorcinol, a milder substance which some of us have used in the vain attempt to make two hairs grow on a head where none would grow before. Now both these compounds consist essentially of a ring of six carbon atoms, and what Professor Johnson discovered was a new way of attaching a chain of carbon atoms to this ring. This enabled him to make a series of similar compounds, with side chains composed of from one to any number of carbon links, and it was found that the power to destroy germs increased as the chain was lengthened until there was six carbon atoms in the chain, but fell off thereafter. So the most powerful germicide of this series is the sixth which is accordingly called "hexylresorcinol" though doubtless a name with less than six syllables will be selected for it before it is put on the market.

Prof. Veader Leonard of Johns Hopkins who has been testing the antiseptic power of these compounds finds this compound is about fifty times as effective as our old carbolic acid. That is to say, it could be diluted with fifty times as much water and would still be as poisonous to the microbes without injuring the bodily tissues.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission of Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Read Lk. 12:35-48. Text: 12:36 Be ye yourselves like unto men looking for their lord.

MEDIATION — In this story Jesus pictures to his disciples a man's joy when he finds a welcome on his return home. This sort of a reception Jesus craves in our hearts. God's spirit is ever waiting to enter human life but the Spirit does not enter where there is no hearty welcome.

"God is an ever present fact to be ready every hour for every demonstration God may make is to live. If we are trustfully ready to own Him in an hour when confession means sacrifice, eagerly ready to go forward with Him when His Kingdom advances, humbly ready for the Judgement of His Son. If we are ready for God it makes no difference whether we are rich or poor."

PRAYER—Our Father, may we be this day as watchers on the wall, alert to guard our lives against the approach of evil. Anxious to welcome all good influences. Let us watch not only our own lives but be ever ready to guard the best interests of all thy children. Through Christ, Amen. (Copyright, 1925—F. L. Fagley)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 17—THE SCISSOR GRINDER

"Now that the Rag man and the Umbrella Mender are started on their spring travels," said the March Hare to the Twins, "it is high time that we got the Scissor Grinder started, too."

"Where does he live?" asked Nancy. "In the winter he lives on Do Nothing Street in Wait-a-while Town. That's where he is now. We'll go there right away."

So the Twins hopped on the March Hare's back, and away he went lippity, loppity, hon to Do Nothing Street in Wait-a-while Town. And there they were, right at the Scissor Grinder's door.

"Come in," said the Scissor Grinder's voice when they knocked.

Without waiting to be asked twice they went right in.

"How'd' do?" said everybody. "Sit down," invited the Scissor Grinder setting chairs.

The March Hare took out his watch and looked at it uneasily. "Thankee kindly, sir, but really we shouldn't—there isn't any time to lose. You should have been started long ago."

"Who? Me?" cried the Scissor Grinder in surprise. "Why what time is it? I've been so busy working cross-word puzzles that I have not looked at the date since last November."

"Well," said the March Hare solemnly wagging his ears—"it's hair-cutting time for one thing."

"Hair-cutting time," cried the Scissor Grinder. "What's that?" "Just what I said," remarked the hare. "All winter long mothers are afraid to cut their babies' hair for fear they'll catch cold. Now that warm days are here and they have to have new bonnets, it's hair-cutting time. And hair-cutting time means that they will be needing sharp scissors."

"Ho, ho!" laughed the Scissor Grinder. "I'll certainly have to be thinking about going. I have only four more cross-word puzzles, and when they are finished I shall oil up my grinder and start along."

"And it's dress-making time, also," said the March Hare. "Everybody has to have a new dress for Easter. More sharp scissors are needed for that. In fact I heard Mrs. Morris say she was going to start her spring sewing right away."

"Perhaps I'd better just work three more puzzles," said the Scissor Grinder thoughtfully.

"And then there is the pruning to do," said the Hart. "Everyone who has a garden has to get out early and prune his shrubs and bushes. Scissors again."

"Perhaps I can do with two puzzles," said the Scissor Grinder.

"And as it's house-cleaning time there will be wall papering to do. And the paper hangers will need scissors every minute."

"One puzzle then," said the Scissor Grinder. "I'll only take time to work one."

Then Nancy spoke up. "But the children need them for doll clothes and cut-outs and everything."

"I'll go at once," declared the Scissor Grinder. "I'll put on my old clothes and oil my grinder and be off this very minute."

"And if you listen, my dears, most any fine day you may hear a voice calling out, 'Scissors to grind! Scissors!'

So have yours all handy when he comes your way.
